WE NOMINATE

Dorothy Elaine Whiteman, an "institution within an institution" and a lifelong Princetonian, who for the past quarter-century has played a dominant role in shaping one of this community's distinctive research enterprises. It was 25 years ago this week that Miss Whiteman, because of her interest in exploring what can be done "to make our cities and towns a little bit better," joined Princeton University's then spanking new Bureau of Urban Research and launched a career possibly without parallel either in the University's Archives or in the development of the profession of urban planning.

Now Assistant Director of the Bureau, the country's first university-based, inter-disciplinary center for urban studies, Miss Whiteman is familiar with every facet of the Bureau's far-flung operations ranging from the direction and administration of a highly specialized library of some 50,000 items to editing some of the most interesting literature in the field. In fact, for a full nine years, including leaves of absence for her superiors and the seven-year span, 1944-1950, when she held forth as Executive Secretary, she was solely responsible for the functioning of a major research agency.

Quietly proud of a venerable family tree, which started growing in Princeton before Nassau Hall was completed in 1756, this diminutive administrator, standing 5'-0", is the youngest of three Whitemans (her sister, Grace, is an officer of The Princeton Bank and Trust Company and her brother, Christie Jr., a widely known industrial consultant in Virginia). Graduating from Princeton High School with the Class of 1929 at age 15, she was associated with the real estate and insurance firm of Walter B. Howe Inc. until asked by Melville C. Branch Jr., founding Director of the Bureau and now President of the Los Angeles City Planning Commission, to become the Bureau's first employee.

Without benefit of any formal education beyond high school, Miss Whiteman helped blueprint research programs for which there were few, if any, guide-lines. Dr. Branch departed for the Armed Forces in 1943 and, until Gerald W. Breese was named his successor in 1950, Miss Whiteman was literally "it." For instance, she created the classification system for a unique library currently receiving 400 publications monthly and, as the Bureau moved from one building to the next, finally coming to rest in the Firestone Library, she sustained "The Urban Reference," an internationally circulated publication summarizing materials relating to the problems of cities and the processes of planning.

Miss Whiteman, with warm memories of the famous barber shop her father maintained on Nassau Street adjacent to the "old" Nassau Inn, trained herself as an incredibly rapid reader who thinks little of scanning and abstracting several bulky professional publications in a day. In addition to intensive reviews and analyses of literature in the field, she has been, and is, deeply involved in preparing the Bureau's creative publications, including "Highways in Our National Life," the about-to-be published "Urbanization in Rapidly Developing Countries," and the just completed survey underwritten by the U. S. Navy, "The Impact of Large Installations on Nearby Areas," a definitive study running to 629 manuscript pages.

For distinguished service in her areas of specialization, including her contributions as founding treasurer of "Operation Nassau"; for thinking little of annually handling some 400-500 requests for assistance from individuals and institutions engaged in urban research; for her grasp of a subject "so vast it induces a genuine feeling of humility;" she is our nominee as

VIET NAM A REALITY For Families in This Area. A year ago this month, Town Topics reported on Princeton area residents in the armed forces who were stationed in Viet Nam. At that time, the United States had committed 70,000 troops to the hot and humid battlefront, among them nine from this area.

Today, all but two of the nine are back in the states. Of these two, one, Campbell S. McClusky, has chosen to return to Viet Nam, this time as a civilian. The other, David T. Graham Jr., son of Mrs. Katherine Graham, 206 Birch Avenue, died of wounds suffered in action against the Viet Cong.

Even while the other seven combat - hardened servicemen came back to their homes around Princeton during the past year, other residents were trained and sent out to fill their places.

Draft calls have risen and now 200,000 men are involved in the fight to keep Southeast Asia out of Communist control. Of this new number, at least eight are Princeton area residents, and all of them are in the thick of the action.

What are their duties, their impressions of life on the front lines — and even beyond those lines? Fulfilling responsibilities ranging from leveling Viet Cong positions to keeping helicopters and radios running, they are playing their role in a war nobody wants but most are willing to accept as necessary.

Supplies Are Vital. Specialist Fourth Class Richard E. Hocking, 22-year old son of Mr. and Mrs Richard Hocking, 15 Monroe Avenue Lawrenceville, has been in the service for three years and is now in paratrooper aerial supply. In Viet Nam since September, he has had the vital task of keeping ground troops supplied with food and ammunition.

In a letter to his parents, Specialist Hocking told of his role in an event which has become a significant and dangerous part of the war — the rescue mission. Communist fire had scored heavily on a Vietnamese village and Specialist Hocking was asked to help evacuate the wounded.

He wrote, "We had three men and two woman aboard, all badly wounded. The crew chief and I were the only two on with the wounded and we felt completely helpless on the flight back. I had to hold down a woman who was in shock and who was fighting like a madman, while the chief held plasma bottles for one of the men and the other woman.

"A DAY-TO-DAY WAR, JUST LIKE ANY JOB:" That's how Christopher Shannon, who flew helicopter support missions in Viet Nam, describes the fighting there. A civilian again after four years of service, he is one of numerous Princeton area residents who has been a part "of the war nobody wants." Story, this page.

We found out later that night that two of the five had died."

Another Princeton area resident, one of the youngest of those now in Viet Nam, also felt the sorrow of death, but in his case, death was more personal. H. Tower Hubble, 19, son of Harmon E. Hubble, 175 Nassau Street, lost two of his best friends on his last mission. Tower, who volunteered for duty with a request to be sent to Viet Nam last August, wrote home to his father that his worst experiences of the war have been the suicidal wave attacks of the Viet Cong where he has seen his friends die and seen too busy fighting for his own life to help.

Alone on Spy Missions. "He's been in every kind of hand-to-hand battle," Mr. Hubble said of his son. Tower has seen many times more than the ordinary dose of action because of his special missions to spy behind the Viet Cong lines.

On these missions, which generally last a month to a month and a half, he works alone in enemy territory and must live off the land. So far he has been sent on six such missions, each time an honor since scouts are hand-picked and must meet stiff requirements.

His adventures include being shot down in a helicopter and running all night through the jungle to escape the Viet Cong. At dawn he radioed for help and he and the colonel who had been on the mission climbed a rope up to a helicopter hovering overhead just as the enemy found them and opened fire. Both escaped safely, but the colonel has since been killed

In another incident, he helped deliver a baby in a village he had just helped capture. He wrote home of the experience, "with a flick of a lore finger I took a life a few minutes before. A few minutes, later I gave a life, not knowing if the man I killed was the father."

Until his son returns in November, Mr. Hubble believes Tower will continue to uphold and build the reputation of his unit, the 11th Air Assault Command Mobile Unit, also called the First Cavalry or "Flying Horsemen." The first of its kind to go to Viet Nam, the unit has been called by one general." one of the best trained outfits to come over," and another said, "There isn't any doubt that the turning point of the war came when the First Cavalry arrived."

Tower himself writes that marines and other U S soldiers treat the First Cavalry royally, even offer to pay for their drinks Mr. Hubble reports that pride in the outfit has given Tower "tremendous confidence and great faith" in what he's doing Mr Hubble adds that even with his faith, Tower "must have a horseshoe in every pocket."

Silver Star Shines. Another Princeton area serviceman who has distinguished himself in the past year is William T. Henderson, 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick P. Henderson, 167 Laurel Circle. Now in Yokosuka, Japan, where he has been in the naval hospital since June with a physical ailment discovered in a check-up in Viet Nam, Lieutenant Henderson won the Silver Star for bravery demonstrated in a reconnaissance mission last October.

A graduate of Duke University, he is expected to return to Princeton this month. Arriving home ahead of him was his brother Frederick P. Henderson Jr., who ended his service in Viet Nam last January as a lieutenant in the Marine Corps. At the age of 27, Frederick will resume his education in the Wharton School of Business at the University of Pennsylvania.

For Campbell S McClusky, 23, son of Mrs. George McClusky 406 Ewing Street, the return to civilian life in the states after over two years of service in Viet Nam was shortlived Mr McClusky, who explained to his mother that he was one of only a small number of Americans who had Vietnamese language training, went back for 18 month after a four-month stay here.

He is working with refugees under the Agency for International Development (AID) program. His duties — working to improve the housing and schooling of the Vietnamese with the help of a Vietnamese counter-part in the city Tuy Hoa — are peaceful but he must carry a weapon to protect himself against Viet Cong attacks.

Other area residents in Viet Nam include Airman Second Class Douglas S. Anderson, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Anderson, Titusville, and Private Willie Liverman, 21, 83 Stockton Street. Airman Anderson volunteered for Viet Nam duty last October and is in the Fourth Air Commando Squadron. Private Liverman, a graduate of Princeton High School, left for Southeast Asia in June and has not yet been heard from.

Viet Nam Duty A Surprise. Another resident who has not been heard from is Captain Donald J Gunn, 28, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Gunn, Linvale Road, Pennington. A veteran of eight years of duty in the Air Force, he was sent to Viet Nam last month as a captain flying an F-100 fighter jet. His mother said the Viet Nam assignment came as a surprise, perhaps the result of the stepped-up war effort, because he was scheduled to be stationed in Japan for three years.

For Private Burt H Joiner, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs Malcomb Joiner, Titusville, the war interrupts his three-year marriage. His father, chief of police of Hopewell Township, recalled that when his son left a friend on July 5, he said, "We don't want to go, but we'll be back."

Others are coming back — some thinner and scarred, all older and glad to be home. They bring with them memories which they might prefer to forget but never will, and experiences that should be forgotten but never can. Included in this group are ten men from this area who have truly been where the action was.

Unknown Help from Above. One of them, Christopher Shannon, 25, son of A Vernon

SCHOOL AUCTION SET

By Regional Board. Witherspoon Street School, on the market for several years, will be sold at public auction at 11 a.m. on Tuesday, August 9, in the board room at Princeton High School. The minimum price is $125,000.

Announcement of the auction of the 58-year-old Quarry Street school was made on Monday at a special meeting of the Board of Education of the Princeton Regional School District.

"I should make it clear," Dr. Harvey D. Rothberg, president, said in a prepared statement, "that the interest of the Board of Education is primarily to sell the school, to dispose of it in a financially responsible way."

Terms of the auction include a deposit of $12,500 by the successful bidder, with the balance due at closing of title, not later than September 1, although the Board will grant deferment until November 1 if the purchaser has a variance application pending before the Borough Zoning Board.

Prior efforts to sell the school have been buffaloed by the present Borough zoning ordinance. The 2½ story building is located on 1.4 acres in an R-5 residential zone.

The ordinance permits apartments, but restricts the ratio of lot size to floor space and off-street parking. Prospective buyers, seeking to meet a need for small apartment units in Princeton, have sheered off when they have balanced the cost of land and building conversion against the 21 maximum apartments the ordinance will allow.

Buyers interested in turning the building into a nursing home have found that a non-profit hospitol is allowable, but a nursing home is not mentioned in the ordinance. A proposal for a cluster of offices would also require a variance.

Because of the risk that a successful bidder may find his plans unacceptable to the Zoning Board (or later to the Mayor and Council), the Regional Board has provided that the purchaser may rescind the sale if his variance request is denied.

The Regional Board meets on August 10 to ratify the sale. The successful bidder then has five fast-moving days to file with the Zoning Board for a hearing, and serve notice upon neighboring property owners. The Zoning Board meets on August 25.

Attorney William Miller will represent the Board at the sale William K. Evans, business manageer for the school district, is in charge of bidders information and inspection of the premises.

Sale of the Quarry Street School was authorized by Borough voters on October 15, 1963, in the referendum which authorized the construction of John Witherspoon Elementary School, Walnut Lane. It has served as the Borough's junior high school for 18 years under the direction of Howard Waxwood.

It was briefly considered as a vocational education center for the high school, "but this was deemed unwise," Dr. Rothberg said. Last year, a survey group sponsored by the United Fuud and the Council of Community Services proposed use of the building by civic and welfare organizations. "... but this idea has not proved to be practicable."

He noted that "we have more than enough room in our elementary schools, and the Quarry Street school is not appropriate for any high school purpose. We believe that our administrative needs will be better served by other structures, including the Stony Brook Administrative Building. It is, therefore, our considered opinion that there is no longer any appropriate school use

MORE PARKING DENIED

For Hospital. Members of the Township Committee declined to take action Monday night on a request from Princeton Hospital for a Henry Avenue parking lot variance. Instead, the Committee followed the recommendation of Township Attorney Gordon D. Griffin, who urged that the question be sent back to the Township Board of Adjustment for further study.

The Zoning Board had previously recommended passage of the parking lot variance but Mr. Griffin said the Board's action was vulnerable to legal attack. He pointed out that no mention had been made of parking space currently available or future parking needs in the Hospital's original request to approve the parking area, which would involve four lots fronting on Henry Avenue.

On hand to express their feelings against the variance were several residents whose homes would be adjacent to the parking lot if it were built. They called the Hospital's proposal an unwarranted intrusion into a residential zone. Mrs. Irene Dolle Pazze, 29 Henry Avenue, said she would take the matter to court if the Committee granted the variance.

Mayor Carl C. Schafer, Jr. took no part in the discussion and disqualified himself from voting on the question. He is a member of the hospital's board of trustees.

Quis Program. In other Committee business, Ernest D'Andrea, 28 Hillside Road, stunned the five committeemen on the birth-date of the township. He said most residents know the history of Nassau Hall but not one in 15 knows that the township was incorporated in 1838, the same year Mercer County officially came into being. The borough was incorporated in 1813.

Mr. D'Andrea, who said he had been doing historical research on his own for a year and a half, suggested that signs be erected at the border of the township stating the date of its founding. The Historical Society has agreed to sponsor the project and Mayor Schafer said the suggestion would be given serious consideration.

A $31,900 grant in state aid for road improvement and reconstruction in the township for 1967 was announced at the meeting. Also announced was the appointment of Arthur M. Byers Jr., corporate secretary of Princeton Theological Seminary, to the Joint Local Community Action Council. The resignation of Mrs. Dorothy E. Schoch from the Joint Recreation Board was accepted with regret, and a formal statement of praise was read for the work done by B. Franklin Bunn, who retired from the Township Planning Board. Mr. Bunn is a former township and borough mayor.

They'll Really Show You

You think it's hot
In Princeton? You so —
Be glad you're not
In Columbia, Mo.!

Intelligence arriving from Princetonians spending the summer in Missouri, of all places, reveals that the thermometer there tops 100 monotonously and that even night-time shadows often fail to drop the readings below 90.

Things look better around here, at least for the immediate future. A bit cooler than normal for the next few days — but no wetter either.

Mrs Helen Benston of Coventry Farm, the Great Road, was awarded the $60 in compensation she sought for a lamb killed by dogs. Committeeman Russell Mouat said most lambs are valued at about $10, but this was a purebred Hampshire ewe whose estimated value was $85.

An ordinance to spend $4,700 to complete the sidewalk along the north side of Riverside Drive from Nassau Street to Woodside Lane will come up for public hearing on August 1. The cost would be shared with affected home-owners on a 50-50 basis. Public hearings will be held on the same date on sidewalks on Mt. Lucas Road, curbing on Haslet and resepting part of Audubon Lane.

Also discussed at the meeting was a public sewer system for Lower Alexander Street. The Board of Health recommended the system since two cesr-wash operation planned for the area would require some such facility. Committeeman William L. Wilson objected to spending part of the needed $26,300 so the car-wash businesses could be run, adding that if they created a health hazard they could be shut-down. A survey of area residents who would profit from a public sewage system will be taken.

TO THE RARE WALLS

Jack Lang Store Robbed. The Jack Lang men's clothing store at Princeton Shopping Center, in the midst of a going-out-of-business sale, got a big boost over the weekend. Hard-working thieves carted off an estimated 700 to 800 pieces of clothing. No token was a $232.50 from a cash register.

"It will be impossible to estimate the amount of the loss," said store manager Bertrand Rosenbluth of Willingboro, who reported the theft to Township police on Monday morning, "until our accountants have gone over all the figures." Mr. Rosenbluth added the thieves "got a lot" and guessed the loss would total "way up in the thousands."

Taken, he said, were at least 400 to 500 suits — they took all but 11 — and between 200 and 300 sport coats. He added that the thieves took only the popular sizes, the 40s, 42s and 44s, and left all the hard-to-sell items. "They knew what they were doing," he said. "They're in the clothing business."

Mr. Rosenbluth also reported that the thieves left behind about 100 pair of pants on the roof. They either didn't want them or it was an indication they left in a hurry, he said. They also left their tools behind.

Detective Fred Porter reported that entry was gained by drilling a hole through the roof and using a coping saw to cut a retangular hole measuring 15 by 18 inches. The clothing was then carried through the hole with the aid of a ladder.

Mr. Rosebbuth recalled that the same thing happeed about four or five weeks ago to the Jack Lang store in Bordentown. "They cut a hole in the roof and took everything," he said.

Sewing Machine Stolen: Peter R. Catalano, manager of the Singer Sewing Machine store in the Shopping Center, reported to police Saturday morning the theft of a sewing machine valued at $119.95 from the store's repair room.

Mr. Catalano told police while he was waiting on two customers in the front of the store, he noticed a man at the rear of the store, walking toward the exit and carrying a cardboard box. He pursued the suspect but lost sight of him soon after.

ROCK 'N ROLL IS OUT

At "The Catacomb." The beat that shook the beams of First Presbyterian Church this spring is banned this summer from "The Catacomb."

The new coffeehouse, located in the church basement where The Tomb used to be, will feature jazz combos, jug bands, folk and flamenco guitarists, "but no rock 'n roll and banging," managers Dave Turner and Jay Breese have decided.

Designed as a place for Princeton's restless youth to go, The Catacomb is the result of a month of planning and work parties by nearly 100 college and high school students who are working around town this summer.

The Catacomb opens Tuesdays and Thursdays features dim lights, refreshments, low, low prices, waiters and entertainment, mainly local talent. Guitarists Bill Aiken, Adrienne Burke, Jim Floyd and Dave Brenner took turns performing at Tuesday's opening.

The entertainment chairmen, Bruce Schundler and Dave Brunner, are on the lookout for more musicians. (The number to call for an audition is 921-7635)

The coffeehouse has room for about 75 to 80 customers. "Our goal is to break even," the managers say. "If there's a profit, we'll probably use it to improve the coffeehouse."

Loan Locker: One of the University store donated 10 music albums, the Food Mart worked out a discount, and Mac Wells, the church business manager, has been a mainstay of support.

Those who took an active role in organizing The Catacomb include Margery Baruch, Charles Fish, Margaret Greenfield, Diane Ostheim, Nancy Rogers, Mike Flynn, Pam Tomlinson, Charlotte Yoder, Peggy Smack, Amy Doorneknip and Cathy Lahey.

The Catacomb is a project of Youth Associates of 20 Nassau Street. Rogers Carrington is executive director; Ken McNutt of Princeton Theological Seminary, assistant.

NOT NOW, BUT LATER

Montgomery Board Says. Efforts begun four years ago to drop Montgomery Township as a Princeton High School sending district reached a final hearing on Tuesday before Commissioner of Education Frederick M. Raubinger in Trenton. A decision is due in a month or six weeks.

Montgomery representatives stated that the Township plans to build a high school in 1970. The district is willing to phase out its 300 PHS students in the fall of 1968, beginning with the 9th grade. The last pupils from Montgomery would be graduated in 1972. The district's contract expired in 1965.

The Princeton Regional Board representatives said that in the next few years the overcrowding at the high school will grow substantially worse. Supporting its stand with a number of exhibits and five witnesses, the Regional Board pressed for prompt withdrawal of Montgomery students. The Regional Board believes that Montgomery could build its high school by 1969.

Attorney Thomas P. Cook called as witnesses Dr. Harvey D. Rothberg, Regional Board president; Mrs. George Fremon, vice-president; Mrs. Arther Wagner, board member; PHS Principal Kenneth Michael and Acting Superintendent of Schools John McKenna.

Appearing for Montgomery were John Van Zandt, board president; Thomas Costello, principal of the Montgomery

HE SUFFERS BENDS

But Bounces Back. Princetonian Stanton Waterman, who spent 72 hours in a decompression chamber after getting the bends while diving near Tahiti, is recovering rapidly and looks forward to completing the full-length underwater documentary he was working on.

An underwater photographer who has 12 years of experience in studying life beneath the sea, Mr. Waterman was stricken on July 3 on the French Polynesian island of Bora Bora. He had been diving there daily for weeks to depths of 125 feet before he made a miscalculation in his decompression time.

He commented, "The sea never relaxes, but the human being does—unfortunately." He recalled that while working on a study of garden eels with two of his children, he "emerged from the dive and immediately dove again with a fresh tank to avoid the bends" when he was stricken while leaving the water.

"That night I suffered a loss of feeling and partial paralysis," the 44-year old underwater adventurer said. "I was taken by friends to the neighboring island of Raiatea in a small boat. Then I flew by private plane to Papeete." In the capital of Tahiti, French officials cut red tape to take him to the Mururoo atoll, 800 miles away, for treatment.

The first American to visit the island since the French began their hydrogen nuclear test series, he spent 72 hours in a chamber the size of a bathroom. This period of decompression helped him get the nitrogen bubbles which form in the blood stream when surfacing too fast from a deep dive, out of his system.

Mr. Waterman is now in Honolulu, undergoing further treatment, but he expects to return to Bora Bora soon. He is filming a full-length underwater documentary there and five or six short subjects with his wife Susie and his children, George, 14; Susie, 13; and Gar, 11. Previous undersea films such as "Water World" and "300 Years Under the Sea" which he made have been seen on television.

PAYS THREE FINES

Loses License 15 Days. John M. Reeder, 41, 341 Elm Road, paid three fines in traffic court Monday and had his license revoked for 15 days. Borough Magistrate Theodore T. Tams, Jr. fined Mr. Reeder $12 for failing to obey a traffic officer's signal and $15 each for passing at an intersection and passing on a grade. His license was revoked for ignoring the officer's signal.

Edgar A. Riddick, 26, 114 Witherspoon Street, paid $25 for careless driving. Failing to stop at a stop sign cost Mrs. Carol C. Cantrell, 26, 221-C King Street, $12.

In criminal court, Richard Lockhart, 19, 291 Witherspoon Street, was fined $15 as a minor in possession of alcohol. Pfc. Charles Harris was the complainant.

PISCATAWAY GIRL WINS

16 Weather Contest. The Nassau Savings & Loan Association contest, "So You Think You Are A Weatherman?," drew a winner from Cranbury and Skillman.

Miss Barbara Waechter of 123 N. Nelson Avenue, Piscataway, guessed on July 1 that the temperature on July 12 would reach 95 degrees at 2:01 p.m. Her prize is a $50 savings account at Nassau S & L.

James Christianson of 60 Main Street, Cranbury, and Janet Barry of Sycamore Lane, Skillman guessed the time would be 2 p.m., missing the mark by only a minute.

Entries totalled 211 for the contest, which the sponsor held to mark the installation of the new time-temperature sign in front its offices at 194 Nassau Street.

Contributions Welcome

The Princeton Hook and Ladder Co. will hold its annual outing and target shoot Saturday at Squatters' Grove, Quaker Road.

Contributions to be used as prizes for the occasion may be left at Cox's Store, 180 Nassau Street. Robert Cox is chairman of the committee planning the event.

BIRTHS

Fifteen Born. Eleven boys and four girls were born last week at Princeton Hospital.

Daughters were born to Mr. and Mrs. Earl Nau, Town House Gardens, Hightstown, July 10; Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Croshaw, Route 33, Freehold, July 11; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Platt, Deed Tree Run Road, Belle Mead, and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Haek, 36 Pinehill Drive, Trenton both on July 13.

Sons were born to Mr. and Mrs. James W. Bailey, 174 Washington Street, Rocky Hill, July 10; Mr. and Mrs. Irving Durling, 4 Park Avenue, Rocky Hill; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Lamm, 56 W. Railroad Avenue, Jamesburg, and Mr. and Mrs. John A. Church Street, Jamesburg, and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Fahrmer, Mill Road, Cranbury, both on July 15.

A daughter, Meredith, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Raymond S. Berven of Mosher Road, Griggstown, on July 7 at Middlesex Hospital.

HOME, FIELD BURNED

In Belle Mead Fire. The second floor of a Ridgeview Estate home on Route 206 and 33 acres of wheat field were destroyed by fire last week. A cigarette thrown from a passing car is listed as the probable cause of the blaze.

In all, 155 firemen from seven companies answered the call which was sounded late last Wednesday afternoon. Two members of Montgomery Township Fire Company No. 2, Fredrick Cook and Andrew Tomenchuk, were treated at Princeton Hospital and released.

The two received minor injuries as they fought the fire inside the home of John M. Schuler, Route 206. The wood roof and second floor of the Schuler home was gutted but firemen were able to save the first floor. A new fire hydrant located within 50 feet of the home was not yet operable.

Beauty on THE SQUARE

By Archimedes (Bernard)

I find that the majority of our clients expect a hair-style to stay in for at least four days — and after all, a hairdresser wishes his clients to be a "living advertisement" to his skill for as long as possible.

The hair styles created by myself and my staff are attractive and manageable for our clients after their sets. It is the initial hair-styling, it is the haircut that is one of the important factors, BUT . . . don't expect a good haircut to take the place of a permanent wave, conditioning treatments, or even of hair straightening, if that is what your hair also needs.

ROBERT HARVEY: In jungle combat, 18 miles outside Saigon.

This Is Princeton

Shannon 10 Greenhouse Drive, and Mrs J. M. Shannon, Patton Avenue, was in the Army for four years until last March. In October of 1965 he was involved as a deer-gunner in a helicopter support mission for a major operation known as "Happy Valley." One of the soldiers he was supporting was Tower Hubble, although the two never met.

He says of the Viet Nam situation, "It is more of a professional war than any other we have been in. This is a day-to-day war that is taken as any job — there is no flag waving. It is just a and duty that must be performed because of the realities of South Viet Nam."

As for the people of the country, he observes, "They are willing to sign themselves with whichever side can provide them with the best security to live their own lives." He thinks that the harshness and cruelty of the Viet Cong have not helped them gain the favor of the people. One problem which hampered U.S. efforts to clear an area of the Viet Cong, he says is that "you never fire first" because of the difficulty or distinguishing between the enemy and Vietnamese peasants.

C. B. Perry Rodgers Jr., 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rodgers, 270 Cherry Hill Road, agrees on the difficulty of fighting the Viet Cong. Back from Viet Nam last spring after a 12-month tour of duty, he describes the enemy as "patient fighters who will sit up in a tree, wait their chance, shoot and run." Nevertheless, he feels the small (5'2") Viet Cong soldiers don't measure up to American standards because of their poorer training and equipment.

"It's a Different World." Other impressions of a soldier's life were brought back by Thomas W. Toussaint, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Toussaint, Hightstown Road, Princeton Junction, and Ervin C. Glahn, 32, Alexander Road, Princeton Junction. Airman Toussaint, stationed near the Cambodian border and responsible for spotting targets on bombing runs, called Viet Nam "a different world." His biggest difficulty he said, was the food. "I got a little tired of rice," he admitted.

Staff Sargeant Glahn, however, said the food was pretty good, perhaps because he was involved in the food service program of the Air Force. "There's always a lot of trouble and there always will be," he said of the fighting atmosphere in Viet Nam. He conceded, though, that "the duty wasn't bad, just being in the place itself away from my wife."

Another Princeton area resident who was away from his wife was Stanley Kline, 24, married for three years and a resident of Pennington. He returned in June after five months on the flagship of a trading fleet which went up the Saigon River. He considered his stretch of duty routine and uneventful.

For Larry W. White, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold R. White, Titusville, and Eric Von Wegen, 25, son of Mr. and Mrs. Poul Van Wegan, Pennington-Harbourton Road, Pennington, occurrences outside the battlefield proved eventful in themselves. In the Army signal corps until last month, Specialist Fourth Class White was selected "Soldier of the Month" of his company and group. Private Von Wegen, in the transportation corps at Long Binh learned the difficulties of his job when he flew to Saigon on a three-day pass and had to stay there for an extra four days because he couldn't get a seat on a flight back to his base, Camranh Bay, 180 miles north of Saigon.

More Memories. William S. Powers, 28, son of Col. and Mrs. W. F. Powers, 88 Woodlawn Drive, recalls how interested the men of his company were in a letter he received from the Princeton Rotary Club praising the work of American servicemen in Viet Nam. Robert L. Harvey 19, son of Mrs. Thomas Harvey, 245 Jefferson Road, remembers his jumps as a paratrooper and jungle combat duty 19 miles outside Saigon.

Seaman James A. Vandermark III, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vandermark Hopewell, and Robert D. Doron, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Doron, Pennington, have not yet arrived home but are in California aboard the heavy guided missile cruiser USS Canberra. They helped shell enemy positions during their four months of combat operation off the coast of Viet Nam.

For Prosper P. Cima, Jr., 25, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cima, 228-C Harrison Street, and himself a resident of Penns Neck, the war meant building landing bases for helicopters. At Christmas-time he received a shopping bag full of mail from area residents wishing him well. He commented that "it's tough for the guy who never gets a letter from home, and those who do receive mail appreciate it even if they don't really know the people who sent it."

cut acres were owned by Thompson Realty, 195 Nassau Street. They were farmed by Alfred Johnson of Bridgepoint Road. In addition, the blaze damaged nursery stock and equipment owned by Victor Diamond.

PROSPER CIMA, JR.: "Mail from home really helps."

Other fire companies which helped bring the fire under control were Montgomery Township Fire Company No. 1 the Forest Fire Service, Neuro-Psychiatric Institute at Skillman and volunteer companies from Griggstown and Hillsborough. They were at the scene for two and one-half hours.

FIRE DESTROYS SHACK

On Plue Street. A vacant shack about the size of a garage located in the rear of the property at 20 Pine Street, also vacant, was destroyed by fire early Monday morning. A general alarm was sounded at 12:05 a.m.

Police said the shed was completely consummed along with part of a wooden fence. Lt. Francis Maguire added it was fortunate the police received prompt calls reporting the fire because Pine Street consists mainly of wooden frame houses close together. Origin of the fire is undetermined.

At 10:47 Monday night, a general alarm was sounded to fight a field fire between Pretty Brook Road and Princetun Day School. All companies responded.

Achievement Noted.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

I think it would be an excellent idea for TOWN TOPICS to express a public thank you to the Staff of the Princeton Pastors Association's Junior Day Camp which has completed a two-week run on the grounds of All Saints' Chapel. This was a first try at combining the finest in day camping with the best of Bible School for all Protestant students of the community who wished to attend.

The staff deserves the greatest of praise: being mother, father, preacher, teacher, and athletic instructors all day with lively 9 - 12 year olds when the thermometer is in the 90° range is no small task. The quality of the teaching and leadership, originality of the crafts, and fine atmosphere of fun and Christian fellowship achieved at this day camp makes it truly a great Princeton First! Thanks to the Camp staff and to the Princeton Pastors Association for their help, and to All Saints Chapel who made the facilities available.

Ten Years for Little League.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

The West Windsor Little League is celebrating its Tenth Anniversary during the present season.

A significant entity to our youngsters, as well as parents' enjoyment, this year has been the splendid publicity given to our activity in TOWN TOPICS.

Presently, we are drilling an All-Star team which will vie against the Lawrence National All-Stars on July 21, at the West Windsor Field (North Post Road).

Thank you for your wonderful cooperation in publishing the articles each week.

Another Viewpoint.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

This past week my wife and I enjoyed one of the most exciting evenings in the theatre we've ever had — with The Great Road Players at the Princeton Day School. This young group has more talent, drive and imagination than has appeared in this town in many years. The two plays we saw were very well done and good theatre, like does not happen often even in New York.

I'm sure with this impressive beginning and The Players interesting scheduled program, Princeton is in for an entertaining summer. I heartily urge all theatre-goers around to give this group a chance — try one show. Here is slick, LIVE entertainment for just the price of a movie.

I have been a theatre-goer for quite a few years now (and a performer) and I can only assume that Olivia Miller was bothered by the summer weather when she saw the first show, per her review or should I say cast listing in last week's Town Topics.

Players Need Support.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

A very worthwhile experiment in theatre is being conducted here in Princeton by a group of young people called the Great Road Players. They do not have the full support of the community. Why?

Perhaps because they are a new group, performing in a beautiful new theatre at the Princeton Day School?

We should welcome such a group, who devote their youthful acting talents to serious theatre in spite of summer heat, and have demonstrated in their recent production of Buechner's Woyzeck that they bring a great deal of talent with them.

Your critic does not seem to see value in the existence of such a group here in Princeton, nor in encouraging young actors who have the courage to do something other than the usual summer fare?

Her reaction to Woyzeck would, I imagine, be representative of the reaction of only a minority of Princeton theatre-goers. To have called the play a bore suggests a lack of sensitivity and certainly poor judgment.

In support of my feeling is the fact that two other newspapers reviewed the play most favorably.

Shouldn't we go to see for ourselves?

GRETA SANDER
(Mrs. Lothar Sander)
311 Harris Road

Editor's Note: To lend support to a theatrical group in the form of a favorable review, merely for the sake of saying "welcome," is neither a valid form of journalism nor the kind of paternalistic pat on the back the Players seek. TOWN TOPICS reviewed the opening productions as its critic saw them but was the first to announce the Players' arrival on the Princeton scene and trusts this summer will be the first of many for them here. No review of the current Moliere farces was possible, inasmuch as Tuesday's opening night was beyond TOWN TOPICS' deadline for its theatre section and critical evaluation of Monday's dress rehearsal did not seem logical.

credit card for payment of two tires they had purchased last week at the Gulf Station, Nassau and Maple Streets, the manager, Constant Gianacaci, 265 Moore Street, became suspicious and asked for further identification. At this, the trio sped off, leaving their tires and credit card behind.

A check on the license number, which Mr. Gianacaci had written down, revealed that the car had been stolen from a fleet Rent-A-Car office in Trenton. It was later recovered in Trenton after being involved in an accident.

Further investigation also revealed that the credit card had been stolen from a Trenton physician early this spring. "It goes to show," commented Lt. Frances Maguire, "that it pays to inquire."

EIGHT LOSE LICENSES

On Speeding, On Points

Eight Princeton area drivers have had their licenses suspended by the Division of Motor Vehicles, half for speeding and half under the point system.

Speeders are Jeffrey P. Billie, 18, 50 West Long Drive; Lawrenceville; Lawrence A. Reilley, 3d, 17, 155 Hamilton Avenue; James Simons, 28, 257 Riverside Drive; and Douglas J. Decker, 30, Arthur Drive, Belle Mead, all of whom lost their licenses for 30 days.

Halted for exceeding the point limit are Christine D. Lear, 55, 146 Nassau Street; Truemaine Jeceqish, 31, 716 Leigh Avenue; and Ernest Mitchell, 38, Davidson Road, Cranbury, all one month; and Robert L. Gill, 51, Skyview Drive, Hopewell, 15 days.

ACCIDENT IS FATAL

To Vincent Savidge. An automobile accident Monday night on Route 518 in East Amwell Township took the life of vincent P. Savidge of 47 North Greenwood Avenue, Hopewell.

Mr. Savidge, 68, was alone in the car when it crossed into the opposite lane, ran into an embankment and overturned. Trapped under the right side, he was taken to Hunterdon Medical Center, where he was pronounced dead on arrival.

An alumnus of the Pennington School and Syracuse University, Mr. Savidge was a reporter and newspaper correspondent. His father, the late E. V. Savidge, owned the Hopewell Herald and he ran it for a number of years after his father's death. He had served the Trenton Times Newspapers as a correspondent in his area.

Mr. Savidge played semi-pro baseball as a younger man and was also a basketball player. He later became a baseball umpire and basketball referee and had officiated at many games in both sports at Princeton University. He was a member of the Hopewell Golf Club.

His wife, Eleanor; a son, two daughters and several grandchildren survive. Arrangements for the service are being made by the Farr Funeral Home in Hopewell.

Two small boys, their mother and a fourth person were injured Tuesday in a crash on Route 69 between a truck and two cars.

Scott P. Byrne, 7, 12 Sioux Road, Pennington is in critical condition in Mercer Hospital, Trenton, suffering from a concussion and internal injuries. In serious condition is his younger brother, Michael, 5, who received a concussion and possible rib fractures. Their mother, Mrs. Wilma Bryne, 32, suffered minor injuries.

State Police said the accident occurred when a flatbed truck driven by Willie R. Goodman Jr., 23, of Trenton, swerved into the opposite lane and collided with the Byrne car. The impact spun the Bryne car around into the path of an oncoming car operated by Charles J. Grill, 22, of Somerville.

A passenger in the Grill auto, Joseph Fisher, 24, of Piscataway, recieved minor injuries. Police charged the truck driver with careless driving.

Falls Asleep at Wheel. Gerald F. Loustalot, 47, of Washington's Crossing, his wife and daughter were injured at 5:45 Sunday morning when Mr. Loustalot fell asleep at the wheel while driving on Route 519 near the Hopewell Valley Golf Club.

His daughter, Janice 14, was admitted to Trenton's Helene Fuld Hospital in critical condition with a fractured skull. Mrs. Loustalot fractured her right leg and right elbow and Mr. Loustalot sustained severe lacerations of the chest and head.

State Police said the Loustalot car ran off the road and struck a tree. Mr. Loustalot was ticketed for careless driving.

DR. LOWE STRICKEN

Suffers Coronary. On the eve of his departure last week for his annual trip to Europe, Dr. E. A. Lowe, 68 Einstein Drive, of the Institute for Advanced Study, suffered a severe coronary.

He was taken to Princeton Hospital and placed in its intensive care unit where he is responding to treatment and showing improvement in strength and general condition. He is expected to remain in the hospital for some time.

AFSERS COME AND GO

After Visit to Princeton. Forty-four American Field Service students from 29 countries were in Princeton Friday through Sunday as part of their country-wide tour. They were among the 3000 foreign AFS students who have been in high schools across the country for the past year.

Before returning to their own countries, the visitors traditionally take a three-week bus tour ending up in Washington, where they are received in the White House. While in Princeton they stayed for two nights with 32 host families in the area.

Mrs. John V. A. Fine was in charge of arrangements for the program, and Mr. and Mrs. Bradley Kehoe again provided the Shipetauken Day Camp for a swimming party-picnic on Friday. On Saturday the students were given a tour of the University, after which many went swimming in pools made available by Mr. and Mrs. Howard Fox of Hunt Drive and Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Rampona of Jefferson Road.

Mrs. John P. Cleaver, president of the Princeton Chapter of AFS, hosted the visitors, who left Sunday morning to continue their trip. Included in the group were students from Australia, Brazil, Ecuador, Ethiopia, Germany, Greece, Iceland, Japan, Peru, Spain, Sweden, Thailand, United Kingdom, Venezuela and several other nations.

TO COLLIDE IN COURT

Car Wash Owners File Suit. The continuing feud between Princeton's two rival wouldbe car wash owners has shifted from the Township Zoning Board to the New Jersey State Superior Court.

The protagonists are William Bucci of Skillman, owner of the William Bucci Development Company, Mercer and Gallup Roads, and Frederick F. Lawrence, 1777 Library Place. Each was granted a special permit in May by the Zoning Board to erect a car wash on Lower Alexander Street, Mr. Lawrence on the left near the Canal as one drives toward U. S. 1 and Mr. Bucci almost directly across Alexander, in the bend, on the old road alignment.

Named as defendants are the Township Committee, Zoning Board and Zoning Officer, Joseph Shinn. Mr. Bucci, who is represented by attorney A. C. Reeves Hicks, claims in his suit that the granting of the two permits violates the intent of the zoning ordinance but Mr. Shinn reported that there was nothing in the ordinance that limits the service zone on Lower Alexander to one car wash.

Attorney Garret M. Heher is handling Mr. Lawrence's counter claim. Both developers claim the defendants acted in a manner "arbitrary, unreasonable, capricious and unlawful, and beyond the authority of the zoning ordinance."

38th REUNION PLANNED

By Stout Family. The Stout Family Association, descendants of Richard Stout and Penelope Van Princess, will hold its 38th annual reunion on Saturday, August 13, at the Hopewell Museum on Broad Street, Hopewell. The reunion will begin at 10 a.m., rain or shine, with participants asked to bring a basket lunch.

The afternoon session will be held in the Calvary Baptist Church on Broad Street at 1:30. Donald A. Sinclair, an author and genealogist, will speak on "Climbing the Family Tree."

All those with the name Stout and allied families and their friends are welcome. Further information may be obtained by writing Ernest H. Stout, 20 Birchwood Knoll, Trenton.

"YOUTH OF THE MONTH"

Miss Hackenberg Is Honored.

Miss Valerie Hackenberg, 18, of 35 White Pine Lane will receive the Youth of the Month Award this Thursday at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis Club of Princeton. She was selected by the Kiwanis nominating committee, headed by Chandler Wentworth, for outstanding achievement in sports, student government and scholarship.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard J. Hackenberg, and a Princeton resident for eight years, Valerie was captain of field hockey and basketball teams at Princeton High School, president of the girls' leader corps, chairman of the athletic awards banquet and a member of the girls' Athletic Council.

She graduated in June, winning the Mary Ellen Muelkin award for her contribution to girls' physical education and to the school, the Spanish Department award, the $500 Princeton Township Education Association Scholarship, the Bamberger Award, and was runner-up in the national competition for the $2,000 Brunswick Youth Fitness Scholarship. As a junior, she was received the Gold Key for leadership and service.

Last summer, Valerie attended field hockey camp at Glassboro coached by former members of the United States' team and was selected as the All-Star Right Inner. She has also won Princeton and Mercer County tennis tournaments.

Her friends say that Valerie's outstanding characteristics are "preserverance and magnaminity." She triumphed over an eye defect and brought her vision up to the point where it was good enough to win sports competition.

Now a life guard at a Highstown pool, Valerie enters Douglass College this fall where she will major in physical education. She'd like to join the Peace Corps after graduation before settling down to teach sports to junior high school students.

Valerie's the eldest of five sisters. Her father is with International Business Machines, in Dayton, and her mother is children's librarian in the Princeton Public Library.

YOUTH IS CHARGED

For Throwing Stones. William H. Fortington, 18, 152 Grover Avenue, has been issued a summons by Borough Ptl. John Chasko for throwing stones on Nassau Street and refusing to pick them up.

Ptl. Chasko and Ptl. Charles Harris report they were driving in their patrol car shortly before eight Sunday evening when they observed three youths lying on the lawn in front of the First Presbyterian Church across from Palmer Square throwing stones into Nassau Street. They added that the street was littered with about a shovelful of half-inch to one-inch stones.

They stopped and told the youths they were creating a hazardous condition for motorists and asked them to pick up the stones. Two of the youths complied. Police quoted Fortington however, as saying he

YOUTH'S BIKE HITS CAR

Treated for Contusions. Dean Boyer, 6, 190 Birch Avenue, was taken to Princeton Hospital and treated for contusions of the elbow after his bicycle ran into a car early Sunday evening.

Frances Dwiggins, 66, 222 Birch, driver of the car, told police as she was driving on Birch, a passenger said, "Watch out!" and she braked to a stop at the intersection of Birch and Race Street. The youth reportedly continued through the stop sign and hit the front of the car. There were no charges.

FROM THE DOCKET

Wine Stolen From Cellar. Major crime was absent from the Borough police docket last week, but, as always, it continued reports of minor thefts and events.

Lt. Francis Maguire reported that two cases of wine were stolen last week from the basement of the Grotto Restaurant on Witherspoon Street. Value: $24.

Paul Corcoran of the Elm Club, Prospect and Olden Avenue, reported the theft of his wallet containing $26 from a bedroom and a $40 portable radio taken from another room. Mrs. John F. McCarthy, 196 Elm road, listed a jockey statue taken from the end of her driveway during the weekend. Lt. Maguire said that the statue, which once served as an old hitching post, was cemented into the ground and that the shelves removed it, concrete and all. The owners valued it at $175.

Police have received a change purse which was turned in last week by a nine-year-old boy who found it in the vicinity of Nassau Street and Princeton Avenue. Lt. Maguire said the police will return the purse, which contained a small amount of money, if the owner can properly identify it.

WANT TO BE AN ACTOR?

Summer Workshop May Help. For a second summer, Donald Blumenfeld will direct an actor's workshop to provide acting experience for those interested. Designed mainly for high school and college-age students, it will be conducted with an eye to learning how to develop character.

This year Blake Samson is in charge of the workshop, which will also include production work. He is styling his methods along the lines of the American Academy of Dramatic Arts.

Backed by the Wine and Cuisine Shop, Applegate Floral Shop, Conover Motors, the Prep Shop and J. P. Clewow Company, the group hopes to use the Stuart School theatre again for its productions. Other members of the group include Tom Ainsworth, Tony Bloch, Tom Knox, Terry Keenan, Alan Vomacka, Ellen Stone, Elizabeth Margosches, Margaret Cowling, Carol Avins, Shirley Kidd and Marie Tsirlenes.

Further information may be obtained by contacting Donald Blumenfeld at 921-0918 or Blake Samson at 924-2514.

APPOINTMENT MADE

To Westminster Staff. David A. Bergmark, director of public relations and development of Bennington College, Vermont, has been appointed director of development of the Westminster Choir College. He will assume his new duties on August 1.

A 1934 graduate of Harvard, Mr. Bergmark has also been development director of Union College in Schenectady, N. Y., and was formerly continental campaign manager of the United Unitarian Appeal. From 1950 to 1955 he was treasurer of the Near East Mission of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions in Turkey.

ARE YOU NEW TO PRINCETON? You'll find "Almanac for Newcomers" delightfully interesting and informative reading. Copies available without charge at TOWN TOPICS, 4 Mercer Street. 9 19-tf

News Of The CHURCHES

PREACHERS CHANGE

At Summer Services. The Rev. Harold Thomas of Witherspoon Street Presbyterian Church will preach at 10 this Sunday at the summer union service in the Princeton Presbyterian churches. The service will be held at St. Andrew's.

The Rev. Rowland J. Cox, Episcopal chaplain at Princeton University, will conduct the 10 a.m. service in the University Chapel.

At Princeton Methodist Church, the Rev. Jackson W. Carroll, Methodist Chaplain at Duke University, will lead the 10 a.m. worship service. His topic is "Who in the World is the Church?"

FLAN VACCATION SCHOOL

At Lawrenceville Church. The two-week Daily Vacation Church School at Lawrenceville Presbyterian Church opens Monday. Mrs. Fran Aicher is director.

A program of arts, crafts, music and study of the church is planned for children of the community who will be entering kindergarten in the fall through sixth grade. The hours are 9 to 11:30 a.m., Monday through Friday.

Assisting Mrs. Aicher are Mrs. Judy Rutledge, Mrs. Hetty enKnutsen, Mrs. Ruth Barringer, Mrs. Janis De Bond, Mrs. Betty Lou Buxton, Mrs. Jean Cryer, Mrs. Kay Danbury and Mrs. Gertrude Venemer.

Children who have not registered may do so on the opening day.

PENNINGTON IS ALONE

On Sewerage System. Pennington Borough, which had tried to join with Hopewell Township in an attempt to solve the sewerage problems, has decided to build its own system within its borders.

The decision to go it alone was reached unanimously last week at a special session of Borough Council, according to Councilman William Schluter.

Pennington has sent word to State Department of Health its plans for a Pennington-only system. It calls for a treatment plant to be located adjacent to the landfill located off W. Delaware Avenue. Total cost of the entire system is estimated at $1,327,000.

For some time the Borough has been under order from the Department of Health to install a sewer system and stop polluting nearby streams. Pennington had wanted to locate the treatment plant in Hopewell Township, east of Stony Brook. However, talks broke down between the two municipalities over representation and control of the plant.

Shunned by the Township, Pennington petitioned the Health Department for permission to locate a treatment plant in the Township. It was denied in December.

In June, Pennington received a $1,056,370 loan-grant (40% of a grant) from the federal government. Use of the funds is now contingent on approval of submitted plans by the Department of Health.

Until this week, Pennington had not decided what course of action it would take. Now it is up to the Department of Health to approve or reject Pennington's plans for its own system.

OFFICERS NAMED

By Hightstown Rotary. John C. Smith has been elected president of the Rotary Club of Hightstown for the coming year. Other officers chosen were Earle W. Peterson, vice president; Joseph C. Curry, secretary; and Edward W. Bogdan, treasurer.

Directors for the coming year include Wm. Davis, John C. Deschu, Carl G. Esst, Nicholas Maul and George A. Scott. The new officers and directors will be responsible for the club's programs of community service, club service, international service and vocational service this month through June of 1967.

FILMS AVAILABLE

From Library. The Princeton Public Library has made available a new group of 18 films for library patrons who have a 16 mm. sound projector. The films are on loan from the New Jersey Library Film Circuit until August 4.

Included are "Auto Biography" which traces the history of the American automobile, "Chaucer's England," which recreates the England of the Middle Ages, and the "Screen Gems Appreciation" presented against a background of music, art and dance.

Film enthusiasts may also use the Library's special reference guide to free films which is now on display showing. Arrangements to borrow films may be made by contacting the reference librarians at 924-9529.

"ALUMNI" TO RETURN

To University Sunday. A special group of forty Princeton "alumni," all of them under 19, have been invited to the campus this Sunday to Celebrate the third anniversary of the Princeton Cooperative School Program (PCSP).

The program, started in 1963 with the joint support of the Rockefeller Foundation, the Office of Economic Opportunity and Princeton University, seeks to increase the number of qualified applicants for college from the ranks of those disadvantaged by race or economics.

Its success thus far is apparent, since of the 40 original participants, all but two have now finished high school and 34, or 85% of the enrollment, have been admitted to college. This year a grant from the Office of Economic Opportunity under the Upward Bound Program has made it possible for 52 youngsters to participate.

Representing high schools in Newark, Trenton, Burlington, Jersey City and Hightstown as well as Princeton, these 52 live in single rooms in one of the University's newest dormitories. Nine undergraduates, two graduate students and a staff of three teachers and instructors are working on the program under the guidance of its director, Dr. Sheldon Judson.

Obituaries

Mrs. Pauline R. Smith, 60, of 426 Riverside Drive, died July 14 in Princeton Hospital after a lengthy illness. She was the wife of Philip Smith.

A native of Windsor, Minn., she had been a resident of Princeton since 1942. She was employed by the Institute for International Social Research in Princeton.

Also surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Ellie Tucker, of Lima, Ohio, and a brother, John Prund, of St. Paul, Minn.

A private service and interment took place under direction of the Kimble Funeral Home.

Horace R. Wyckoff, 59, of 24 Columbia Avenue, Hopewell, died July 14 in Princeton Hospital following a short illness.

A life-long resident of Hopewell, he had been employed for 25 years at the Rockwell Manufacturing Company. He was a member of the Hopewell Volunteer Fire Department and the First Baptist Church of Hopewell.

Surviving are his wife, Isbel M. Wyckoff; a son, G. Richard of Hopewell; and three sisters, Mrs. Kenneth L. Williamson and Mrs. Ralph Lanning, both of Hopewell, and Mrs. Evelyn Sigafoos of Reigelsville; four grandchildren; and several nieces and nephews.

A service was held at the Cromwell Memorial Home in Hopewell with interment in Hopewell Cemetery.

Oscar J. May, 45, of 43 Clay Street, died July 17 in Princeton Hospital. He was a lifetime resident of Princeton.

Mr. May was a member of the Witherspoon Presbyterian Church and served on its Board of Deacons. He was a veteran of World War II.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Louise Holland May; a son, Dennis; a daughter Patricia; two half-brothers, James Moore and Brian V. Moore; two sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth Taylor and Mrs. Alice Satterfield, all of Princeton; an aunt and an uncle.

The service will be held Thursday at 11 at the Witherspoon Presbyterian Church. The Rev. Harold Thomas will officiate and burial will be in Princeton Cemetery.

Mrs. Katherine J. Sindlar, 81, formerly of 44 North Main Street, Pennington, died on July 18 in her home at Spring Valley, N. Y.

Born in Schwerin, Germany, she had lived in Pennington for ten years. The widow of Victor W. Sindlar, she is survived by a son, Steven, of Princeton, and two grandchildren.

A funeral service in Pennington was followed by interment at the convenience of the family.

Lopis Jezequel, 47, of 116½ Leigh Avenue, died July 12 in Princeton Hospital after a long illness.

Born in Jouin, France, he had been a resident of Princeton for 15 years. He was employed by the Nassau Inn. Surviving are his wife,. Truemaine Boon Zezequel, and a brother in France.

A service was held at the First Baptist Church and interment was in Princeton Cemetery under the direction of the Kimble Funeral Home.

Charles H. Jones, 80, of 125 Williams Street, Hightstown, died on July 14 in Princeton Hospital after a lengthy illness. A native of Cranbury, he lived in Hightstown for the past 30 years.

He was a retired farm laborer. His is survived by a son, Roy, of Trenton; a brother, Joseph; and six grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

A service was held in Cranbury and interment was at Brainerd Cemetery.

Oreste (Ernest) Consoli, 61, North Greenwood Avenue, Hopewell, died July 18 in Princeton Hospital after a lengthy illness. He had been in the construction business in Hopewell for many years.

He is survived by his wife, Concetta Consoli; three sons, Victor, Gerald and Alfred, all of Hopewell; and two sisters in Italy.

The service will be held at 9 a.m. Thursday at the Cromwell Memorial Home, Hopewell. Requiem mass will be celebrated at St. Alphonse Church at 10, with burial in the parish cemetery.

Thomas I. Bradley, 78, of 168 Maxwell Avenue, Hightstown, died July 17 in Princeton Hospital. A native of Preston, England, he had lived in the Hightstown area for more than half a century.

Mr. Bradley was a retired carpenter and painter. During World War I, he had served in Germany with the Canadian army.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Grace Dee Bradley; two sons, John of Gilette, N. J., and Frank of Somerville; five daughters, Mrs. James Gulik of Windsor, Mrs. Salvatore Porrovecchio of Somerset, Mrs. Walter Huey of Freehold, Mrs. Joseph Doyle of Hightstown Heights and Mrs. Thomas Wallace of Trenton; 21 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Isabelle Davison, 94, of Dey Road, Plainsboro, died July 18 at Princeton Hospital after a long illness. A native of Edinburgh, Scotland, she came to the United States in 1919 and had lived in Plainsboro since 1951.

Her husband, Charles, survives, as does a brother, George Young of Stamford, Conn. The service will be held Friday at 2 at the A. S. Cole Funeral Home, with the Rev. Richard McAfee of the Plainsboro Presbyterian Church officiating.

ALMOST ONE ACRE OF TOWNSHIP LAND goes with this good-sized Colonial, built in 1961, happily inhabited ever since. Separate dining room, paneled den, 2½ baths, screened porch. $51,500

ALMOST AS OLD AS THE WOODS BEHIND IT! Quaint button on a close-in, pleasant Twp. road. Five room house can be inexpensively expanded or comfortably lived in as is. The land alone—2 plus acres with old trees and lovely greenery—is nearly worth the asking price of $28,500

NESTLED INTO A SMALL HILLSIDE on a small Township road. Five renovated rooms, 1½ baths, living rooms, both with fireplaces, kitchen with eating area. Pretty house, pretty grounds. $27,500

EARLY AMERICAN FIELDSTONE COUNTRY HOUSE. 10 rooms, including morning room (!), library, 5 bedrooms. Attic studio. Stone guest house, barn, stable, wagon house woodshed complete with year's supply of firewood!). 14 acres of lawn, fields & woods. You have to drive a bit for this one, but where can you find anything like it nearby? $63,000

NEWLY REDUCED TO SELL FAST, and it should. Bright, clean, sunny Borough Dutch Colonial, particularly convenient to High School and Choir School. 4 bedrooms, separate dining room, double lot. Could not be duplicated for $29,500

LAWRENCE TOWNSHIP 3 THREE ACRE BUILDING SITES. Can be purchased together or separately. High land, pretty pastoral view. Very fine country residential area.

CONVENIENT TO TOWN, UNIVERSITY & RIVERSIDE SCHOOL. White two-story house, renovated with white aluminum siding (distinguishable from clapboard only by an expert eye). 3 bedrooms, 1½ baths, separate dining room. Very appealing, quite private lot. Nice at $27,900

GEAR READER:
Whoever you are — businessman, housewife, student — you can improve your reading skills. For seventeen years we have helped average readers to better comprehension and speed.
And we have learned from our students. We have found that each reader has individual problems, so we have designed an individually taught and scheduled course. We are located in Princeton where instruction is small group and personal to be finished when you're ready. We will give extra help and review sessions for as many years as you wish with no additional charge.
This summer we will be teaching from 9-5 on weekdays, and on Monday and Wednesday nights, so if you can squeeze us in. You'll be glad you did.

DEAR PARENT:

Some of your children who need corrective or remedial reading instruction are doing well twenty or thirty miles away, while the same service is available in the center of Princeton.

In addition to our developmental programs for students and adults, we also teach students with correctable reading problems. A five or six period tuition each week includes vocabulary, phonics, word attack, sentence, paragraph and article comprehension, concentration skills — in short, any and all basic skills that a below-average reader may lack.

We schedule these sessions at the convenience of the students. And we're not twenty miles away.

BACKSTAGE, five tense minutes before the curtain rises. The Great Road Players limber up and add final touches to make-up under the watchful eyes of John Lithgow, executive director. The Players present an up-dated version of three Moliere comedies this week, including a 2:30 children's matinee on "The Flying Doctor" and "The Forced Marriage."

News Of The THEATRES

PLAYERS OFFER FARCES

By Moliere. Three one-act comedies by 17th Century playwright Moliere are being presented this week by the Great Road Players.

The plays are given as a group in order to recreate for audiences the world of the commedia dell'arte: a world of pure comedy. The language of Albert Bermel's new translation is both bright and colloquial.

The comic hero Sganarelle is the central figure in all plays. He appears as a valet, as a wealthy bachelor and as a suspicious husband. Bob Lesser, W. F. Finley and John Lithgow each have a turn in the role.

In "The Flying Doctor," Sganarelle jumps in and out of a tower, impersonating not only a physician, but the physician's imaginary brother, in an atmosphere of incredible good humor.

In "The Forced Marriage," he consults with experts—from philosophers to gypsies—while his finance spends his money and arranges her love affairs. The confusion in "The Imaginary Cuckold" evolves from a classic there: a lost locket.

The productions incorporate French music of the period

PLAYHOUSE

Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf? (now playing) is a powerful, emotionally powerful picture, transferring Edward Albee's long - running stage hit to the screen without loss of impact.

It is for - and - away the best Elizabeth Taylor - Richard Burton achievement to date. It also establishes a new high mark in the use of foul language in films.

The picture tells the story of a night - long drinking party given by a middle-aged college professor and his frustrated wife. Their guests are a young professor who is new to the faculty, and his wife. In the course of endless drinking, joking, lying, laughing, quarreling, and telling - all the many - sided characters become revealed.

Miss Taylor's portrayal of the blowsy, vulgar wife is the best performance of her career. Burton's version of the harried history instructor is a textbook example. George Segal and Sandy Dennis contribute mightily in the supporting roles.

The film stands to satisfy all manner of edults — those who are continually seeking the different entertainment, starkness in drama, the thrill of illicit romance, the shockingly real language that lashes out, etc. It keeps viewers off balance because by the time one situation subsides, another is brewing.

"RUSSIANS" A HIT

At Garden & Prince. Capacity crowds packed the Garden and Prince Theatres over the weekend to see "The Russians Are Coming!" The Russians Are Coming! were lured away from the Garden on Saturday night.

The comedy is held over for another week. Managers Richard Knight of the Garden and Dan Jones of the Prince have announced. "It's a family show," Mr. Jones says, "one that all ages enjoy."

OPEN AIR SHOW READY

And It's Out of This World. The Open Air Theatre in Washington Crossing State Park will present Cole Porter's musical, "Out of This World."

IT'S NEW To Us

"WEATHERVANE"

Ex The Ski, Executing a deft stem christie. The Ski at 20 Nassau has changed direction slightly and become The Weathervane.

"We're not losing our image entirely," explains Reid Laughlin who, with his wife, contributes to guide the shop, "we're just modifying it slightly."

The modified image will be one of top quality, high fashion, sophisticated sports and casual wear. Weathervane will continue to be a ski shop and will carry ski equipment, but things like tennis racquets and men's wear — except for ski things — will be quietly retired.

Bieyle double-knit pants and co-ordinated tops from Germany — how's that for a start-er? Sixteen colors, like pale dusty pink and a deeper shocking pink than you usually see, or a peeled lemon, line up on the swatch card. Can't you just see a pair of stove-pipe pants in one of those colors?

Midge Grant dresses are around now at Weathervane (you've seen the pure and simple little pink silk, haven't you?), and will be in even greater quantity and variety. Marek contributes fine wools and silks. Those wool culottes, for example, and the long dresses for evening are part of Marek's line.

"We'll have the best at-home collection in town," the Laughlins say. Long silk skirts and slacks from G & T are part of that plan. Velvets, silks and co-ordinated tops sound terribly formal, but actually, they are gay and relaxed. Long wrap-skirts have been made by Weathervane (no relation).

Talbot of California, a top-rung house in silks and wools, sends along some original sportswear and a group of coordinated hats and bags. Fuller leather bags, incidentally are available in monogram.

Joining the Muller bags and the Talbot co-ordinates on the accessory shelf will be Joy's papier mache jewelry. This is quite different from the Mexican-style papier mache you may be use to and is really much more like the leaded "stained glass" pieces you've seen in gift shops. Amusing cats, a pair of bare feet and other such Joys are part of the group.

For winter, Weathervane plans purse Shetland skirts, pullovers and cardigans from E. S. Dean in Scotland, and hand-knit fisherman's sweaters, the kind with the name of the knitter right there in the stitching.

Foldal's Scandinavian sweaters, also hand-knit, with hats to match, will keep you warm. If it ever gets cold enough so that you have to be kept warm.

In the general sportswear line, your weathervane at Weathervane will be Boe Jest and Austin Hill: wrap skirts and slacks in tweeds and plaids — you know.

Not all of this may be on the shelves at once, you understand, but drop in from time to time and see what the invoice man has left today.

LEATHER BOUND

Where's Tbal? There was once an old joke about a traveler who was Morocco bound, but that doesn't concern us at the moment.

We've just been book-poring at Witherspoon Art and Book, in the front book of Bank Street just off Nassau, and we've found some leather-bound volumes to send a collector straight down those Art and Book stairs to the stacks.

The Sacred Books and Early Literature of the East is a 15-volume set, published in 1917 and including volumes on Medieval Arabic, ancient and Medieval Hebrew, Mercieval Persia, ancient and Medieval China, right back to the Assyrian.

The works of John Burroughs, in 10 volumes from 1304, will be in some naturalist's library before long. And who's going to buy the "Days of the Dundee" published in Edinburgh with three-quarter red leather and marbelized end papers?

First editions are a particular pride at Witherspoon Art and Book, and you'll find about a thousand of them, all in one set of shelves.

The jewel of this collection is the complete — 60 — first editions of Booth Tarkington collected by a Princeton woman over the years. So complete it even contains things published after Tarkington's death, the collection includes a two-page letter from the author to the collector confirming its completeness.

Princeton residents will also be interested in a first edition of Gerald B. Lambert's "All Out of Step" and the late Edward Earle's "Makers of Modern Strategy," published by the University Press in 1943.

Two of Gunther's "Insides" are here in first edition, and

AT MIDDLEBUSH: Renee Stein has the leading role in "Come Back, Little Sheba." being presented this Friday and Saturday as well as next weekend at the Barn Theatre in Middlebush. Mrs. Stein lives on Borrn Hill Road, Skillman.

News Of The Theatres

on July 22 and 23. Performing will be members of the Theatre Arts Guild of Freeholdin, which presented "Three Penny Opera" last year, under the direction of William Starsmue.

The story for the play is based on an adaptation of a Greek legend in which Jupiter casts longing glances at the wife of a mortal. The mortals are two Americans whose honeymoon is upset by the interference of the gods Jupiter, his wife Juno, Mercury and Night.

Among the more familiar numbers are "Use Your Imagination," "I Got Beauty," "I Am Loved," "Cherry Pies Ought to Be You" and "No Lover for Me." The performances will begin at 8:30 (in case of rain on one of the evenings, a Sunday performance will be scheduled.

MORE OF BEETHOVEN

String Quartet to Perform. The Claremont String Quartet will perform in the second of its three Beethoven-cycle concerts Friday at Sundance, the outdoor festival theatre near Upper Black Eddy in Bucks County, Pa. The following night "The Madonna of the Orchard," a new play by Paul Foster, will be presented by the La Mama Repertory.

In the Friday concert, selections will include the early Op. 18, No. 5, op. 59, No. 2 Rhasoumavsky, and the late Quartet in F major, Op. 135. A week from Friday the Claremont String Quartet, praised by the New York Times for its "ravishing homogeneous tone . . . performances extraordinary" will conclude its Beethoven cycle.

The Madonna of the Orchard is a highly experimental full-length play. Its author, Paul Foster, is a young American playwright who is said to have started the movement known as off-off-Broadway. The La Mama Repertory has performed in Europe and is based at La Mama Experimental Theatre Club, a cafe-theatre in Greenwich Village.

All performances at Sundance begin at 9 p.m. Tickets are $2.50, $1.50 for students. For reservations and information call 215-847-5303 or write to Sundance, Upper Black Eddy, Pa.

LaROSA AT LAMBERTVILLE

There Through Saturday. "What Makes Sammy Run," the Budd Schulberg-Ervin Drake musical which played for two years on Broadway is the current attraction at the Lambertville Music Circus. Julius LaRosa, stage star and recording artist, takes the role of Sammy Glick, the all-time, top-grade American heel.

LaRosa appeared on Broadway as a replacement for Hal March in "Come Blow Your Horn." He is seen this week at the Music Circus in the company of Earl Hammond, Natalie Costa and Diahn Williams.

Maurice Chevalier, old enough so that his first motion pictures ran in Princeton at the Arcade Theatre, will begin a one-week stand at Lambertville on Tuesday. Performances at Lambertville begin at 8:30 Tuesday through Friday, at 6 and 9:45 on Saturday and at 7:30 Sunday. Wednesday matinees start at 2.

NEW SHOW AT BUCKS

Gene Rayburn Stars. "The Impossible Years," a comedy currently running on Broadway will open Tuesday at the Bucks County Playhouse in New Hope. Gene Rayburn is cast in the leading role, while Mike Ellis will appear as a special guest star.

"The Impossible Years" will run daily except Sunday through August 6. Evening performances are at 8:30 hours, while the matinees on Wednesday, July 27, and Tuesday, August 2, are at 2 o'clock.

AT NEW HOPE: Colleen Dewhurst is co-starred in "The Lion in Winter," on view through Saturday at Bucks County Playhouse.

"The Lion in Winter" is the current attraction at the Playhouse, finishing a two-week run on Saturday. George Scott and Colleen Dewhurst are the principals.

REFERENDUM DATE SET

For Proposed School. Residents of Hightstown and East Windsor will vote Tuesday, October 4, on a $2.5 million bond issue which would finance a new elementary school. If the referendum passes it is hoped that the school will be ready for use in September 1960.

The funds would make construction possible of a three-building complex which would include about 30 classrooms, administrative offices and a library. Cost of acquiring the land — about 25 to 30 acres at $5,500 per acre — is also a part of the bond issue.

Originally, the Board of Education had proposed a referendum running to $3.2 million. Some $700,000 has been pared from this figure by a decision to eliminate construction of 20 additional classrooms, which it is held are not currently needed.

Capacity of the school, based on the present figure of $2.5 for all costs, would be about 1,100 pupils. Population surveys indicate that it will be a number of years after September 1968 that full enrollment will be achieved, and that additional classrooms can be added at that time.

PLAN TO VOTE?

Register Now. Registration for the primary election in Princeton Township which will be held on September 13 is now open. Voters in the primary will elect two township committeemen, a U. S. senator, a member of the House of Representatives, a sheriff, a surrogate, two members of the board of chosen freeholders and two coroners.

Township citizens will also be asked to choose one male and one female member of the Democratic and Republican county committees for each election district.

Registration and transfer of registration will be held in the offices of the township clerk in Township Hall between 9 a.m. and 5 Monday through Friday up to and including August 29. On August 4, registration will also be open from 7 to 9 p.m.

Those desiring to register must appear in person. Registration may be transferred by mailing a change of address card, available at the Township Hall, to the Mercer County Board of Elections, Court House, Trenton. The card must be postmarked before midnight, August 4.

KAMMLER HEADS ROTARY

For 1966-67 Year. Cory Kammler, president of Kammler Buick-Pontiac, has been elected president of the Princeton Rotary Club. He succeeds Robert Popino, immediate past president, an executive with American Cyanamid.

Other officers elected to run the club during the coming year were Allen Frank, vice-president; Wilmn Dettmar, secretary; and George Loos, treasurer. Newly-elected directors are Gilbert Turner and LeBaron Foster will join two-year directors Harry Volweiler and Phillip Ramsey.

The Princeton Rotarians, now numbering more than 100, include business, professional, organizational and educational representatives in the area dedicated to public and community service. They lunch together each Tuesday at the Nassau Inn to plan their activities.

HARVEST HOME PLANNED

In Griggstown. The Harvest Home Festival of the Griggstown Reformed Church will be held at the Church on Saturday August 20, from 5 to 10 p.m. Instead of the usual supper, there will be food stands on the grounds.

Featured in the activities is a concert by the Blawenburg band. There will also be the usual games, including the coconut throw, the hayside fishpond and puppet show. Gifts, farm produce "white elephants" and homemade baked goods and jellies will be sold at stands. There will be no admission fee.

Planning the event under the direction of Mrs. Melville Smith, chairman, are Mr. and Mrs. Odmund Arnessen, Mr. Stanley Darmofalwal, Mrs. Warren Crawford, Mrs. Raymond Hoagland, Mrs. Rufus N. McCord and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Terhune.

WATCH OUT!

The Locust Are Coming, Brood VI, one of the six broods of the 17-year locust found in New Jersey, is expected to appear this month in many parts of the state, William M. Boyd, chief of the Bureau of Entomology of the state department of agriculture, called Brood VI "rather unimportant" in terms of numbers.

Nevertheless, he said Brood VI has a somewhat extended distribution in 11 counties, including Essex, Bergen, Passaic, Hudson, Union, Morris, Hunterdon, Somerset, Middlesex, Mercer and Cumberland. The most important broods in New Jersey are Brood II, which appeared in 1962, and Brood X, which showed up in 1953.

The arrival of the insects this year will be announced by the shrill din of the males, a sound made after they emerge from the ground after 17 years of imprisonment. It was in June and July of 1949 that the newly-hatched young of Brood VI dropped to the ground and burrowed their way beneath the surface where they lived for the next 17 years on the roots of trees and shrubs.

The locust, or periodical cicada, cannot sting, but the female has a sword-like appendage with which she punctures twigs to deposit her eggs. These punctures cause only a general pruning of mature trees, in young trees and nursery stock, the damage may be severe. Insecticides may be used for protection of ornamentals and non-bearing fruit trees.

The locust will live for a period of only a few weeks, during which the adults mate. Residents who find them are asked to report their location to the Division of Plant Industry, New Jersey Department of Agriculture, P. O. Box 1888, Trenton. The division requests that an estimate be made whether the insects are few, numerous or extremely numerous at each locality.

COPING WITH THE HEAT: Nancy Schenck (right) and Donna Hanson, summertime employees for Turney Motors where there is no air-conditioning, tell how they tried to beat the heat during this month's scorching weather.

Question of the Week

Question: What are you doing to beat the heat?

Where asked: Nassau Street.

Miss Nancy Schenck, Dutch Neck, assistant bookkeeper Turney Motors, student at Wilson College: Whenever I have a chance, I take a ride in an air-conditioned car . . . it's the closest I can get to air-conditioning around here. The fans don't do too much.

Donna Hanson, Franklin Park, assistant bookkeeper, Turney Motors, Franklin High School student: There's no breeze at all at work so I have to bear it during the day, but we have a pool in our backyard at home which makes it nice.

Bill Walson, Eglantine Avenue, Pennington, stock clerk, University Store. Nothing! I accept it.

Miss Marian Stano, Rosedale Road, social worker, Family Service: I've been away and I'm going away again, north of here.

Miss Jenine Palmer, Linden Lane, student, Bernard College: Mostly, I'm taking advantage of friends' swimming pools.

Andy Bloch, 60 Jefferson Road, sophomore, PHS: First, I turn on the air conditioner and if that doesn't work then I call up a friend and ask if I can come swimming.

Tony Raphael, Henry Avenue, employee, Frick Chemical Lab, campus: I'm just wearing cool clothes and drinking lots of cold beer.

Mrs. Ann Coyne, 11 Charlton Street, clerk, University Store: All I do is take a lot of baths.

Miss Sarah Friend, Rocky Hill, junior, PHS: I joined the Pine Brae Club where they have a nice big pool.

Robert Boyce, Macon, Ga., attending vocal group, Westminster Choir College: We have squirt gun battles in the dorm.

Bill Clark, Toledo, O., vocal group, Westminster Choir College: We carry a towel to class to wrap around our necks.

Chris Marascio, Trenton, carpenter: I'm working right out of it. I'm a carpenter and there's nothing I can do about it. You still have to put out so much work whether it's hot or not.

Joe Aronson, Trenton, accountant, Millner, Millner & Aronson, 194 Nassau Street: Staying inside. It's air-conditioned. You really notice the shock when you come outside, especially a few days ago when it was 101 or 102 degrees.

Mrs. J. P. Pariso, Skillman Road, Skillman, housewife: Nothing, just enduring it, although we swim as much as we can.

Mrs. Michael Levine, Blawenburg-Rocky Hill Road, housewife: The best thing is to live in the country where there are a lot of trees. Unfortunately, there aren't many where we live so we turn on the hose many hours of the day for the children to play in. Inside, we have an air conditioner.

Chris Schaefer, Skillman, junior, PHS: I go swimming all afternoon every day at the Quarry.

Miss Sandi Sutton, Matawan, secretary, IBM, 32 Nassau Street. What can I do? I just stay in our air-conditioned office as much as I can.

Mrs. Annette Hochstadt, Kendall Park, housewife: We're thinking of getting an air-conditioner but we haven't decided yet. Meanwhile, we go swimming at a pool we belong to.

Walter Lomicka, NYC, waterproofer, Nicholoson & Galloway, Inc. Nothing, just grin and bear it. When you work outside that's all you can do. I just came down from a scaffold; I've been in the sun all day.

It's New To Us

so, if you can believe it, is "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

A stack of Pirandello in Italian will appeal to the student of modern drama and so will an unusual group of Shaw volumes. Here are some early plays published in Chicago by Herbert S. Stone, and quite a group brought out by Brentano in New York. Shaw, in sets, comes from Constable and Company in London.

On the history shelf, Witherspoon Art and Book has the 12-volume Nicolay and Hay biography of Abraham Lincoln, and this one belongs back in our feather-bound category, "Battles and Leaders of the Civil War" has heavily illustrations.

On the art shelf, you'll find Mrs. Schuyler Van Rensselaer's "English Cathedrals" from 1892 with Pennell illustrations. It's a two-volume quarto set.

Did you see the Turner exhibition at the Museum of Modern Art? Then you'll be interested in the two-volume set, from 1900, or thereabouts, of 120 engravings. That glowing color isn't here, of course, but the set is a fascinating one, nevertheless.

They had "coffee-table" books at the turn of the century, too. The Turner is one example. So is a five-volume set of Great Operas with an introduction by Giuseppe Verdi, of all people. It's a giant set, with librettos and stories (not scores) and wonderful lithographs of passionate operatic tenors. Delightful, really. Some illustrations, incidentally, have been done in tempera tones on silk and topped in, in case anyone's for framing.

Under the direction of the fishisters, 16 volunteers are helping clean up and repair buildings and facilities in the town, in a rural area about 40 miles south of Chiengo. Their work ties in with the war on poverty programs already underway.

POOL OPENING DELAYED

At Least Until August. Hope that the Community Park swimming pool complex would open in July has gone down the drain.

A new opening date of August 6 has been advanced by Lawrence Rafaelle, consultant for Costello Associates, architect for the pool complex. Mr. Rafaelle's date, however, was contingent on a number of it's falling smoothly into place and the Joint Recreation Commission, the agency overseeing the project, is adopting a wait-and-see attitude. Burned more than once this summer after listing probable opening dates, it is loath to commit itself now. Best guess: mid-August, give or take a few days.

"We can't come out with any firm date," commented R. Donald Barr, Recreation Director, "because there are so many different variables. We'll keep pushing and open when we can."

At that, the pool opening will be a partial one, Mr. Rafaelle reported that the contractors hope to have the main pool, the training pool and the women's bath house ready by August 1. The diving pool would follow later this summer, and Mr. Rafaelle admitter construction on it was "lagging."

In addition, present plans call for the women's bath house to be divided with plywood to provide toilet facilities for men and women. There will be no dressing facilities this year; there will be no land scaping. The parking lot will be in use but it will not be black topped this year.

What is causing the delay? Mr. Rafaelle listed some of the major problems. The coping, he said, was coming in "dribs and drabs" from Carolina. He described it as a very specialized piece of pre-cast concrete made to a certain size.

Lack of it is holding up finishing of the interior of the training pool and main pool.

The wooden roof trussels for the filter room which contains the filtration system, the mechanical heart of the pool, are not due to arrive until July 27. And once they arrive, it will be another four days to a week before the roof is on, Mr. Rafaelle reported. The pumps, coming all the way from California, have yet to arrive.

The electrical conduits for the pool lighting have not arrived — relatively trival matter in itself, reported Mr. Rafaelle, but until they do, the concrete deck surrounding the pools cannot be laid. The decking is a major item. "Otherwise, there will just be muck around the pool."

SUMMER MADNESS: With a portion of its labyrintbine plumbing exposed, workmen race to finish the woman's bathhouse at the Community Pool complex. Plans call for the bathhouse to be divided temporarily with plywood to provide toilet facilities for both sexes. Dressing facilities will have to wait until next year. Whether there will be a roof over the bath house this summer depends upon delivery in time of wooden trussels, specialized beams that have been on order for more than three months. (Staff Photo)

Realistic Date? As Mr. Rafaelle continued to tick off the problems to be overcome to meet an August 6 opening, John Conroy, acting chairman, interrupted him and asked, "Aren't you being optimistic, Mr. Rafaelle? Is this a realistic date we are talking about?

And then, as if giving vent to his frustration of seeing one promised date after another go by, Mr. Conroy continued, "I'm terribly disappointed in the way this has turned out. I'm fed up with this double talk. This we have been ready Memorial Day!"

"No date is realisic," reptied Mr. Rafaelle, "unless everything holding it up is vigorously pursued, every item, all day long, pushing . . . pushing, then coordinating the loose ends." He went on: "If we keep on top of it, every ineh of the way, yes!, we can make it. It's possible to slip up, I still honestly feel this is a realistic date."

Asked if the Commission had inserted a penalty clause in its contract with the contractor, Mr. Barr replied that the Commission had given a lot of thought to it but, acting on the advice of Cotellia and Township Engineer Frank Quinby, it had decided not to.

Actually, explained Mr. Barr, if you have a penalty clause, you also have to have a bonus clause as well. This is a static requirement.

Mr. Barr added that it was a fairly common practice among contractors to tack on to their bid the amount they estimated they might loose under any clause. "You end up paying more money than the job is worth," said Mr. Barr. "We felt it would be more economical to the community not to include any penalty clause."

Mr. Barr said that he felt that there would be no problem over the pool itself being ready on time. The chief problem, as he see it, is getting the specialized items such as electrical equipment the coping and so forth on the dates promised. And that is something over which the Commission has no firm control.

The possibility of using substitute materials has also been considered if delivery of these vital items fails. As outlined by Mr. Rafaelle, the most recent schedule calls for filling of the pool to start July 27. (Four days are needed to fill the pool. Construction would be complete by July 31. Then, he said, we would need at least a week to get the bugs out, testing the filtration system and so on.

Tennis Response Low. Another apparent victim of delayed construction are the nine fast-dry tennis courts that that have been opened at Community Park. Mr. Barr reported last week since June 29, only 10 family memberships have been sold and only $21.25 collected in daily fees. The hard-surface courts, for which there is no fee, are scheduled to open July 20.

Mr. Conroy, tennis coach at Princeton University, said that he did not expect any "great surge" last year. Most of the tennis players of the community, he said, had already signed up with the University Courts or had commitments to play elsewhere.

Assistant Director Edward Beecham reported that Princeton's 11 playgrounds — six in the Borough and five in the Township — had opened for the summer. In all, 1347 children have been registered. Largest number is the 292 at the Harrison Street playground.

CHANGES ANNOUNCED
In WHWH Personnel. John Morris, sales account executive with WHWH, has been named local sales manager of the station, David A. Moss, vice-president and general manager of WHWH announced. The station also will have a new assistant manager of WTOA-FM in Trenton when Richard G. Morgan, sales account executive with WGHQ in Kingston, N. Y., joins the company on July 21.

Mr. Morris, with WHWH as a sales account executive since January, 1964, four months after the station went on the air, has been in radio since 1944. A member of the Princeton Kiwanis Club and the father of three children, he is a former director of special events and public relations for the American Forces Network in Europe.

Mr. Morgan, who has been at WGHQ for four years, will assume sales and management responsibilities for WTOA, a station which has been on the air for 19 years. He is married with one child.

How To Survive

Cory S. Kammler

Psychologists tell us it is far better to be an optimist than a pessimist, but there is one area in life where this does not hold true. Too many of us are optimists about not having an accident happen to us, and therefore seldom give it a thought. It isn't a pleasant contemplation but it would seem to be in everyone's best interests if there was a public consciousness of the fact that, "An accident MIGHT happen to me today!" Those of us who would keep that in mind should be more alert to sidestep it. By definition an accident is an unexpected mishap, so if we "expect" it perhaps we might avoid it. Our aim is to serve you in every possible way.

stitution Drive, has been re-elected president of the board of Mideast Aluminum Corporation. Other area residents re-elected to the board include August A. Barth, Richard Lamb, John F. McCarthy, Jr. all of Princeton, and Peter Russo of Lawrenceville.

The firm is one of the leading fabricators of aluminum products. Mr. Sowers reported to stockholders at the annual meeting that the past year was the most successful in Mideast's history.

TRAINS MAY BIT 110 MPH In Near Future. Preparations for the testing of four specially-built electric laboratory cars on the Pennsylvania Railroad at test speeds up to 160 miles an hour are ahead of schedule and are nearing completion.

It the tests are succesful, 50 self-propelled cars are expected to begin operation in October, 1967, between New York and Washington. The cars will whisk passengers over the tracks of the Pennsylvania Railroad at speeds up to 110 miles per hour.

A special welded-rail test track has been installed for the 21 miles between Trenton and New Brunswick. Comprehensive testing at high speeds on the new track will begin about October 1 of this year. Current trial runs are being made on regular main line tracks south of New Brunswick.

Allen J. Greenough, PRR president, said the railroad has already completed much of the work of putting in new switches and some 35,000 crossties between Trenton and New Brunswick. Work is about to start on rebuilding the overhead electric power wire network to withstand very high speeds.

PLANS ANNOUNCED
By Knights of Columbus. Election of officers for Princeton Council 636, Knights of Columbus, will be held Monday at the council home, 111 Prospect Avenue.

The annual picnic for the senior citizens of Morris Hall Home for the Aged in Lawrenceville, conducted by the Knights, will be held on July 31. Peter G. Miller, former Grand Knight, is general chairman of arrangements.

SHORE TRIP SCHEDULED
By Y for Teenagers. The YM-YWCA has scheduled a shore trip for area high school age young people for Saturday. The teens will travel to Island Beach State Park and then spend the evening on the Seaside Heights Boardwalk.

A bus for the trip will leave promptly at 9 in the morning and be back by 11 p.m. Those wishing to go must register at the Y office to reserve a place, but need only bring swim suits and lunch.

IT'S THE 3 R'S AGAIN
In West Windsor. A federally — supported summer school program has been launched at the Maurice Hawk School in West Windsor Township. Mathematics and language arts are stressed in the remedial program offered to pupils.

The 60 pupils are divided into six groups with a teacher in charge of each. A librarian is also part of the instructional team.

Students living in West Windsor may use the Maurice Hawk School Library for reference or leisure reading from 10:30 to 11:30 daily. Books may be borrowed at that time.

LIBRARY HATH ART
From Mediaevel Period. Illuminated manuscripts from the Middle Ages are on display at Princeton University's Firestone Library until September. The exhibit is part of Princeton's 330-item decorated manuscript collection which is considered one of the finest in the country.

Grouped into four main sections, "The Mirror of Nature," "The Mirror of Instruction," "The Mirror of Morals," and "The Mirror of History," the exhibition has books ranging in size from 3¼ inches to 2½ feet. Subject matter for the Mediaeval artists and scribes include scenes from the Bible and the Apocryphe, and royal portraits and pictures of battle.

Dr. Rosalie Green, director of the Index of Christian art, who helped select and arrange the menuscripts, commented that the Mediaeval illuminator drew heavily on the natural world, "Scattering his margins with foxes, dogs, apes, birds and insects, strawberries, carnations and columbines, scenes of sowing and harvesting. He dealt, too, with virtue and vice — one small drawing personifies Avarice as a bag hiding her coin-filled sock in a chest."

Manuscripts on display include an early 14th century English copy of the Magna Carta, with a miniture portrait of King Edward I, and a 36-foot scroll depicting a conception of universal history. Beginning with Adam and Eve in the Garden of Eden, it is carried forward to the time of Pope Clement VI, a contemporary of Dante.

Visitors are welcome Monday through Friday from 9 to 5 p.m. The gallery is closed on Saturdays and Sundays.

Pack your VACATION MONEY along with your togs

You deserve a change of scene — a vacation from regular routine.
But — before you begin your travels — be sure to trade plain old money that can be easily lost or stolen — for the kind of money that no one but you can cash — anytime, anywhere — Travelers Checks.
You can buy as much or as little in travelers check dollars as you need, for a few cents each at any of the three convenient offices of the Princeton Bank. Then you can travel with a medium of exchange that is better than cash, because each time you cash a travelers check you must sign again with your very own signature. If lost or stolen and your name is forged, you still get every penny back without question. So before you start your travels — get the travelling money you need.
We can even arrange a cash loan if you need it. And if you're travelling on big business where large sums of money may be needed abroad, we can arrange a letter of credit. You might want to buy a car in Europe — or a castle. This full service bank can help you with all your money matters — at home or away. Walk right in today for complete banking service.

Richard I. Bergmao, 165 Valley Road, has been named vice-chairman of the national convention of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers which will be held on September 19-23 at Atlantic City. He is director of engineering and development at Princeton Chemical Research, Inc.

Mrs. Evelyn Shaw, Millstone River Apartments, is participating in a workshop in human relations in professional education at Rutgers University. She is one of 18 members of the three-week workshop, which began on July 5.

Three area residents will represent their college alma maters in the academic procession of the Rutgers University Bicentennial Convocation, to be held on September 23 in Rutgers Stadium. Joining the procession will be Everett F. Tomlinson, The Great Road; Blanchard W. Bates, 10 College Road; and Floyd W. Paul, 12 Murray Place.

Dr. Tomlinson, a member of the research staff of the Forrestal Research Center, is an alumnus of California Institute of Technology in Pasadena. Dr. Bates, a professor of romance languages at Princeton University, is an alumnus of Bowdoin College in Brunswick, Me. Dr. Paul, a trustee of Coe College in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, will represent Coe in the procession.

Seven Princeton residents have received advanced degrees from Princeton University. The recipients and their degrees were Edward F. Bauer, 7-A Maple Apartments, Ph. D. in Germanic Languages and Literatures; William A. Briggs, Jr., 223-D Halsey Street, M.A. in architecture; Harrison S. Fraker, Jr., 55 Winfield Road, M.A. in architecture; John R. Frederiksen, 40 Brookstone Drive, Ph.D. in psychology; Gregory Guroff, 20 Madison Street, M.A. in history; Elizabeth P. Sessions, 63 Stanworth Lane, M.A. in Slavic Languages and Literatures; and William H. Young, 18 MacLean Circle, M.A. in architecture.

Frits Machlup, 279 Ridgeview Road, and William J. Baumol, 214 Western Way, are among the contributors to the "The Structure of Economic Science: Essays on Methodology" which will be published this summer by Prentice-Hall, Inc. Both are professors in Princeton University's department of economics.

Mary V. Tuozzolo, daughter of Mrs. James M. Tuozzolo, 110 Winslow Avenue, Mercerville, and the late Mr. Tuozzolo, has been awarded the Emily A. Post Scholarship of the Douglass College Alumnae Club of the Princeton area. A graduate of Hamilton High School - East, she will enter Douglass in the fall.

Richard A. Stritch, Old Trenton Road, Edinburg, has completed a water chemistry course sponsored by the Water Conditioning Foundation. He is sales manager of Culligan-Nassau Water Conditioning Co. which has offices at 345 Witherspoon Street.

The Mercedes-Benz 250S –the $6400 car that's loaded with engineering instead of status.

The 250S is one $6400 car without an ounce of fat. In place of gaudy splendor, you get engineering advances – like 4-wheel disc brakes and fully independent suspension. Result: this taut machine runs circles around those $6400 dream boats. Read more about the Mercedes-Benz 250S – a refreshingly sane car.

from a company where engineers still rule the roost. They aim to impress the driver, not the ego. You feel the difference on your first test run—and you'll keep feeling it for years.

About that $6400: It includes power steering and brakes, automatic transmission and many other amenities. You can buy a 250S without frills for as low as $5747.

A driver's car

For your $6400, you get a car endowed with vast margins of performance in every category, from handling to cruising to braking. Safer, more relaxing, and a keen pleasure for those who simply like to drive. The 250S is one of the world's few passenger cars that pay as much attention to handling as to riding ease. The secret: all four wheels are separately suspended—a huge improvement over the solid rear axle system still found on most other $6400 cars.

If one rear wheel on the 250S hits a bump or dip, this ingenious rear axle pivots in the center. It rides with the jolts—both wheels stay firmly planted on the road.

Under the 250S: an advanced rear swing axle.

Car and Driver magazine reports on the uncanny adhesion of the 250S: "It is capable of sustained high speeds on any kind of surface—from the glossy new asphalt at Hockenheim racing circuit to a torturous little dirt road in upstate New York."

Historical note: Mercedes-Benz introduced fully independent, rear swing axle suspension on its passenger cars over 30 years ago. The solid rear axle hangs on today in every domestic passenger car but one.

Automatic leveling

Mercedes-Benz engineered an extra benefit into this suspension: a hydropneumatic load leveler. Add a heavy load to the trunk or rear seat—a self-adjusting spring at the rear axle automatically pumps up to keep the car riding level.

Incredible braking

Slamming on the brakes in the 250S draws the car to smooth, quick stops time after time. Its 4-wheel disc brakes virtually eliminate the menace of fading, pulling or rear-wheel lockup. And an ingenious brake power regulator is built into this system, for balanced front and rear braking forces.

Use of 14-inch tires allowed fitting of these bigger brakes. Tires play their part in the car's superb handling and stopping power, too.

And in safety: "The engineers knew how fast their car would go, and what kind of loads it might have to carry, and they specified original-equipment tires that would carry the maximum load at the maximum speed," Car and Driver reports.

Is 400-hp necessary?

Fitted up front in the 250S is one of the world's more efficient 6-cylinder engines.

It is no 400-hp fireball. But advanced single overhead camshaft design and virtual hand assembly let it purr along at 90 mph all day if asked (and if legal, of course). A 7-main-bearing crankshaft and meticulous balancing of all components keep noise and vibration to a subdued minimum.

Every 250S engine is bench tested before installation, for more than 60 minutes. Too much noise during this gruelling test and the engine is torn down and rebuilt. Mercedes-Benz finds the lemons—not you.

How to squelch rattles

"We were generally agreed that this was one of the tightest bodies we have ever tested," says Car and Driver. Some reasons: unit construction with welding at 10,000 points—and none of the rattles found in bolted-up bodies; 16 different gauges of sheet metal throughout the body, some up to one millimeter in thickness; rubber-mounted engine and running gear to damp out road rumble.

For future reference: Under two coats of enamel on this body are two coats of primer. Under the primer, zinc caulking at vital points. And under the car itself, 24 pounds of permanent plasticized undercoating. Five years hence when the car still looks new, you'll know why.

Less is more

A measuring tape shows the 250S to be almost two feet shorter overall than domestic $6400 cars. But step inside: there's more headroom than a Lincoln, more rear seat hip-room than the newest Rolls-Royce, and plentiful space for five.

The Mercedes-Benz 250S—so carefully built that painting alone takes 16 hours. Clip coupon for more facts.

*East and Gulf Coast ports of entry, exclusive of options, state and local taxes if any.

Individual front seats are deeply contoured and firmly padded. They slide back and forth and recline without the need of complex electrical mechanisms. The driver can adjust seat height.

When you sit in back, you can see out front; the rear seat is placed so its occupants don't need to peer over the shoulders of those ahead.

Chrome trim on the 250S body sides isn't just ornamental. A raised rubber insert takes the brunt of parking lot scrapes. Similar inserts protect front and rear bumpers.

A safe automobile

The 250S is engineered to help drivers avoid trouble. But if trouble should happen, it's also engineered for maximum protection. Front and rear body sections are designed to yield on violent impact. The passenger area stays intact—helping to keep the doors shut (as do patented "safety cone" door locks). Inside, possible hazards are either padded—such as the steering wheel hub; recessed—such as the door handles; or made of flexible materials—such as control knobs. And the rear view mirror is spring mounted to snap off if struck.

GEZUNDHEIT!

Until very recently, hay fever sufferers looked forward with dread to soaring pollen counts. Probably they pictured hell as a vast expanse carpeted with ragweed and goldenrod.

Medical science has changed all that. Today, there are at least three medical approaches to controlling hay fever symptoms.

Many specialists prescribe hyposensitive injections of one of the newer steroid drugs — the same preparations that bring relief to thousands of sufferers from rheumatism and other inflammatory diseases.

Antihistamines are also being used with much success. The third approach is called "desensitization," meaning that the patient is dosed in advance of the hay fever season with preparations actually containing the substance or substances to which he is allergic. This builds resistance against the time when he is fully exposed to the offending pollen or other substance.

Whichever method your doctor prefers, Thorne's delivers the medication he prescribes in a form suited to your own particular needs. Not every hay fever sufferer can expect complete relief, but when better drugs come along you'll find them at The Thorne Pharmacy.

BASKETBALL MAKES NEWS

Freshmen Will Be Strong. Bad news travels fast, the old adage claims, but it will probably not be until the coaches of the seven other Ivy basketball teams return to their campuses in September that they will catch up with the details of what has been going on at Princeton.

It has taken a while for all the pieces to fall into place, because one of three particularly promising players was very much in the manner of Bill Bradley—waited until well into the summer before reaching a decision on the college of his choice. If a combination of good fortune, athletic ability and coaching skill blend properly together, basketball at Princeton in the 1967-68 season will bring BIG rewards to the new field house which will open that fall with a seating capacity of close to 7,000.

Now enrolled in the Class of 1970, which will arrive on the Princeton scene shortly after Labor Day, are Jeff Petry, John Hummer and Joe Marty. Each was an all-state selection: Petry in Pennsylvania, Hummer in Virginia, Marty in New Jersey. Indications are that they have the potential as a trio not only to lead the Tigers to ever greater domination of the Ivy League (five titles in the last seven years) but to a high ranking in eastern and possibly national ratings.

It was Petry who has only recently reached a decision to matriculate at Princeton, after he had all but decided upon Wake Forest—while the Rutgers sports publicist was almost maliciously reporting that "It's 99% certain that we'll get him." Mr. Mumbler's colleague was also making overtures and the 19-year-old Springfield, Pa., resident was the subject of an article early last spring in Sports Illustrated.

All-Around Ability. Petry played football, basketball and baseball at Springfield, earning wide recognition as a three-sport athlete. He is expected to play only basketball and baseball at Princeton, and Eddie Donovan, coach of the Tiger nine, will be content if he heads for the diamond when the basketball season is over. In two years as a pitcher, he lost only one game and, playing the outfield when not on the mound, batted over .500.

Dave Crawford, a member of the administration at Princeton Theological Seminary and year-round follower of athletics on the Princeton scene, was among those who interested Petry in coming here. Another was Art Hyland, a resident of Allentown, Pa., who captained Princeton's Ivy League champions in 1903.

"There are innumerable trophies Petry has won in our room of his house," Crawford reports, "but I see only one picture. It shows Petry standing next to Bill Bradley."

Hummer Turned Down Duke. For the second time in the past few years, a highly promising basketball player accepted by both Duke and Princeton has turned his back on the North Carolina university. Bill Bradley did so in 1961 and now John Hummer, younger brother of the Tigers' basketball captain-elect, has followed suit.

At 6-7 four inches taller than Petry, Hummer also has all-around court ability. Like Petry, he is a standout on defense but also has a variety of shots: in his three years at Washington-Lee School in Arlington, Va., he broke brother Ed's career record of 838 by 100 points.

Last March, Hummer's school won the state championship after entering the ten-team field ranked no better than seventh. Over the six years that the two played for W-L, it won 119 games and lost only 15.

At a comparable point in their careers, John is considered by some observers in the League, John Ellsworth will manage the West Windsor team and Guy Watlington will act as coach.

Selected from the six teams in the league for the game were Bob Bazso, Dennis Clark, Martin Clark, Kim Coleman, Kevin Dalton, Mark Ellsworth, Dave Everett and Doug Everett.

Also, Larry Fowler, John Fuschini, Steve Kapp, Ben Lum, Barclay Pollack, Rich Probasco, Ricky Rogers, John Schumacher, Kevin Tylas and Peter Zigler.

TOURNAMENT SCHEDULED

Tennis Invitational Set. The second annual Princeton Men's Invitational Tennis Tournament, sanctioned by the United States Lawn Tennis Association, begins this Friday at 5 p.m. and will run through Sunday.

The tournament attracts top players from Princeton, Trenton, New Jersey and the Philadelphia area. Two of the players who will be among the favorites this year are Hiam Magill, number one for Princeton in the past season on Princeton's varsity team, and Jim Beste, currently ranked number 27 nationally and a former number one player on the Stamford University varsity team.

There will be both men's singles and doubles events in this weekend tournament. The singles draw is limited to 32 players. Those wishing to enter may contact E. Aldea Dunham, director of admissions of Princeton University, at 452-3061.

TENNIS BUFFS READY

For Junior Tournament. Competition in the New Jersey District Junior Tennis Tournament will begin Monday and run through the following Friday. There are ten divisions of play for boys and girls: 16, 14 and 12 and under singles and 16 and 14 and under doubles.

There is a $2 single and a $1 doubles entry fee. A player is limited to two events, one singles and one doubles. Consolation matches will be held for those 12 and under.

SUMMER LACROSSE PARTICIPANTS: Four who are taking part in the Princeton Summer Lacrosse League sponsored by the Recreation Department are, from left, Bruce Van Ness, Brian Sullivan, John Pelito and Rob Ridolfi. All are middlefielders except Pelito who plays attack. Van Ness, attending Rutgers, was All-New England while for Proctor Academy; Ridolfi was captain and Pelito was named most valuable player of the 1966 Lawrenceville School team, which was New Jersey State Champion this year, and Sullivan is a product of Avon Old Farms prep school.

highly - regarded basketball area of metropolitan Washington "to be better than his brother. Regardless of that, at 6-7 he's now an inch taller than Ed, and has finally outgrown the nickname of "Little Hummer."

From West New York. Tallest of the three promising freshmen is Joe Marty, a graduate of West New York High School who measures 6-8. College offers from many parts of the nation also came his way, but his acceptance as a member of the Class of 1970 was received here shortly after the letters of admission were mailed out last April.

The younger Hummer will not, of course, play on the same team as his brother, but in the fall of 1967, the Tiger roster will include 6-10 Chris Thomforde, by then with a year of varsity experience under his belt, and back courtman Joe Beiser as a senior. Beiser is the closest replica to Art Hyland that Tigers have had in the past four years.

None of this is to say that Princeton will necessarily run away with the Ivy League title for three straight years while Petry, Hummer and Marty are on the scene. The Tigers did that in the days of the Bradley era, although they won each time after overcoming stiff competition—once in a playoff with Yale.

Princeton will, however, continue to play far better than average basketball at the start of the present decade. The new field house was regrettably too late for the Bradley era, but its seating capacity of more than double 3 million even provide thousands of fans with many fascinating evening's entertainment.

BLUE OVER NAVY

In 3-2 Squeaker. Blue maintained its first place position in the Summer Lacrosse League with a 3-2 decision last week over Navy at Marquand Park. Sam Stewart scored twice and Karl Pettit once for all of Blue's goals, while Dave Leete had both of Navy's.

Red won its first after two ties by defeating winless Green, 10-5. Bruce Van Ness with four goals and two assists was the big gun for Red. Stuart Ingold added three goals and Brian Sullivan, two. For Green, Tom Dwyer was most effective with two goals and one assist. Fred Kline had one goal and one assist and John Pelito and Phil Allen single tallies.

After three weeks of play, the standings at the halfway point are Blue, 2-0-1; Red, 1-0-2; Navy, 1-2-0; and Green 0-0-3. Guest official next week will be Art Robinson, newly-appointed coach of the Princeton University freshman lacrosse team and assistant football coach.

ALL-STAR GAME PLANNED

For West Windsor. The annual national Little League tournament will begin in this area this Thursday when the West Windsor All-Stars encounter the Lawrence Township Nationals at the R. J. Wood Field on North Post Road, Princeton Junction. Game-time is 5:45.

The contest will be the highlight of the season, which marks the tenth anniversary of the West Windsor Little entries, with blanks available from William Hunter, 168 Harrison Street. All players must report for registration at 10 on Monday at the Princeton University courts pagoda area near Baker Rink. In case of rain registration will be held at the same time Tuesday. Players must come ready for play since there are no locker facilities available.

Over 250 junior players participated in the tournament last year and more are expected this year. Entries have already been received from North Jersey, Bound Brook, Split Rock, Spring Lake, Philadelphia, Long Island and shore areas.

KRAFT BLANKS STOKES

For Junior Singles Title. Ken Kraft, son of Mrs. Lewis Kraft, Ridgeview Road, originator of the Princeton Community Tennis Program, won the Junior Men's championship Saturday at the University Courts. He overwhelmed Harry Stokes, 6-0, 6-0.

A senior at Lawrenceville, Kraft is ranked in the junior division by the Middle Atlantic Lawn Tennis Association. "Ken had too much power for Stokes," commented John Conroy, Princeton University tennis coach and director of the summer championship tourneys. "He was shooting much harder and he showed a good selection of shots."

Stokes, who graduated in June from Princeton High School, copped a State career as a member of the Little Tiger tennis team. He and captain Pete Dumpel were the team's leading singles players.

Conroy also reported that the junior women's championship has been halted, but may pick up at a later date. In progress are the championship matches for boys and girls 16 and under and the adult mixed doubles.

RACE TIGHTENS

In PBSL Eastern Division. RCA B dropped its third game of the season last week as it missed an opportunity to be the only team in the Eastern Division of the Business Softball League to have a record over .500.

JUNIOR MEN FINALISTS: Ken Kraft (left) overpowered Harry Stokes, 6-0, 6-0, Saturday to win the YMCA Junior Men's (18 and under) championship. In the middle is John Conroy, supervisor of the summer tennis tournaments.

Second-place ETS, which entered the game with five wins and five losses and was three full games behind the leaders, upset RCA, 9-8 on 12 hits. Stew Allen went 3 for 3 at the plate and Dave Friedeborn singled and tripled in two official at-bats to offset two home runs, one of them a grand slam, by RCA co-manager Mel Sanders. Jack Dilworth was credited with the victory.

In a good old fashion Ed Sugfest in the Western Division, Accelerator remained close behind RCA A by trouncing RCA Astro, 16-10, on 19 hits. Astro scored seven runs in the first inning to take a commanding lead, but Accelerator rallied with two in the second three in the third, and in the fifth and seven in the sixth.

Carl Schuler hit for the circuit in the contest as he contributed a single, double, triple and home run to the Accelerator attack in four trips to the plate. Larry Youch went 3 for 4 with a home run and Eric Bergstrom collected two doubles. Jack Bartow was the winning hurler.

In two other games dominated by the hitters, Columbian Carbon did past Opinion Research, 16-11, and Hopewell TV routed Shell Oil, 21-12. Carmen Armenti went 3 for 4 with a home run and pitcher Don Wall 3 for 4 for 4 for Columbian Carbon while Bill Rodefeld hit a home run in a losing cause for ORC. Hopewell TV scattered 18 hits in their bout with Shell to win handily.

In other games played, Western Electric remained out of last place in the Eastern Division by handing American Cynamid a 10-5 set-back. RCA A kept its solid hold on first place in the Western Division by eking out a 6-5 thriller over McGraw Hill.

In the RCA McGraw Hill battle, the game went to eight innings before John Meyer singled, Ed Lopatin singled him to third, and Steve Conor hit a sacrifice fly to left to bring Meyer and the decisive run home.

TITLE STILL OPEN

In Girls' Softball. Educational Testing Service failed in a bid to clinch sole possession of first place in the Research Girls' Softball League last week as it dropped a tight, 10-9 decision to New Jersey Bell.

The league is so closely bunched that only last-place Opinion Research Corporation is assured of its final standing. In the two remaining games, ETS will meet McGraw-Hill and RCA will vie with Princeton Hospital. The outcome of these games will determine playoff positions.

In last week's action, Bell extended its winning streak to three games as Dione Smires pitched her fifth-place team to 10-9 and 8-5 wins over ETS and Princeton Hospital. In the Hospital game, Stelle Smires hit a home run.

RCA broke out of a hitting slump to rout McGraw-Hill, 12-2. Pat Woodring supplied the offensive punch for winning pitcher Carole Bredbenner with three hits. RCA now has undisputed possession of second place and is only one game behind league-leading ETS.

The standings:

	W.	L.	Pct.
ETS	7	2	.778
RCA	6	3	.667
McGraw-Hill	5	4	.556
Princeton Hospital	5	4	.556

NO. 3 WIDENS LEAD

In PBA Little League, Outscoring its competition by a sizeable margin of 41 runs to 4 Engine Co. No. 3 easily won a pair of games last week to strengthen its hold on first place in the PBA Little League.

In its first outing, No. 3 was aided by Jimmy Leuper's three hits, two of which were homers, one a grand slam. The three-hit pitching of John Mooney defeated the Elks, 19-2. Breezy Boccanfuso, leading hitter in the League, collected all three of the losers' hits. Paul LaPlaca had three for No. 3.

Four hits by 10-year-old Jamie Petrone, among them a pair of triples, powered No. 3 to a lopsided 22-2 margin over Italian - American Sportsmen's Club. With three hits each, Kevin Smith, Leuper and Mooney also joined in the romp, the latter connecting for his first four-bagger of the season.

To a large degree, Bill Schilling was the whole story in Engine No. One's 12-8 decision over Post 76. In four at bats, Schilling hit for the circuit and he added icing to his slugging feat by having his homer a grand slam. On the mound, he limited Post 76 to one hit — Tony Bailey's two-out single in the last inning — and struck out 12.

How come those eight runs? A melange of wild pitches, passed balls and errors. Bobby Speagle had three hits for the winners.

No. 1 won again, 17-3, over the Eagles behind the one-hit pitching for four innings of Bobby King. He got support at the plate from Larry Howell and Bobby Speagle, two hits each, and Alan Bogdoff, who lashed a two-run triple, and Greg Kline, who homered.

Bobby Worn fashioned a two-hitter for Post 76 at the expense of Hook & Ladder, which dropped to the .500 level as a result. Dane Black and Jack Bayer were the only two batters who were able to solve Worn. Final score: Post 76, 15, Elks, 0.

The standings:

TWO WIN AT SPRINGDALE

Mrs. Selden, Mrs. Rose. Winners of the 36-hole, two-day Jean McLean Memorial Tournament played last week at the Springdale Golf Club, were Mrs. William K. Selden of Olden Lane and Mrs. Edward C. Rose Jr. of Mercer Road.

Runners-up were Mrs. William M. Thompson Jr., Mrs. O. Kline Fulmer, Mrs. James J. Whelan and Mrs. Robert J. Shaw. The annual tourney is in memory of Mrs. McLean, former member of the club's Women's Group.

Winners of the recent Scotch Foursome were Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Tyler of Lawrenceville; Mr. and Mrs. Edwin D. Shaw Jr., Vernon Circle; Mr. and Mrs. William Pearce, Parkside Drive; and Mr. and Mrs. Mac G. Morris, Herrontown Road.

McCARTHY IS TOPS In Tennis Tournament.

Kevin McCarthy of Princeton won the first annual Oakland Junior Tennis Tournament held last week at Trenton Country Club by defeating Larry Pottkay of Lawrenceville, 3-6, 6-3, 6-1 to take the 14-and-under boys' singles division. McCarthy also won the boys' sportsmanship trophy for the tournament.

Bill Tobolsky and Richie Oberman both reached the semi-finals of the same division before being defeated. Erico Dumpel, the only Princeton girl to enter the tournament, finished runner-up in the girls' 14-and-under singles competition. Other junior players who competed in the tournament included Tim Miller, Tom Worthington, Peter Worthington, Bill Janney, Scott Magill, Steve Sander, Bobbie Sonnenschein, Chip Jones, Steve Tobolsky, Duncan Brown, John O'Donoghue and Holis McLoughlin.

Another group of area tennis players, many of them junior leaders in the Community Tennis Program, won a 36-16 victory in an exchange match with the Merion Cricket Club. Participating were Caitlin Scheele, Molly Hall, Richie Favreau, Joel Thompson, Richie Oberman, Scott Raisim, Mike Jameson, Kevin Curtis, Mike McConnell, Hollis McLoughlin and Dave Starbuck.

Also, Ken Klotthen, Sam McClain, Hevey Harbison, Ted Fritsch, Bill Carroll, Robbie and Barb Sonnenscheln, Peter Heinemann, Duncan Brown, George Ford, Nancy Wise, Debbie Endersby, Anne Bretnall, Cindy Shoemaker, Liz Hoffman, Bebe Ramus, Ana Rimsukon, Marilyn McConnell, Sheila Notthee, Mary Lapidus and Terry Sheehan.

ANTLER SC WINS PAIR

To Take Over First Place. Antler Sporting Club won a pair of slugfests last week in the Princeton Recreation Softball League, an achievement which elevated it to first place by one game.

In a team effort, Antler outlasted Princeton Aviation, 10-9. The previous day, it had come from behind to topple Nassau-Conover Motors, 12-7. A five-run inning in the sixth, highlighted by Bud Fowler's bases-loaded triple, sparked the comeback.

In other contests, First National Bank kept pace with a victory over Cenerino's, and Jim Case collected four hits and scored four runs to lead Edna Robotti's Store to a 15-4 triumph over Princeton Shopping Center. Princeton Aviation romped, 30-5, over Nassau Merchants, which also lost, 12-2, the following day to Cenerino's. In the former, Bill Bertolino punched two homers and had five RBIs.

Shopping Center gained a tie for second place with a 20-5 thrashing of First National Bank, whose chief tormentor was Dave Britton. Britton was 5-for-6 at the plate. Robotti's outlasted Conover Motors, 10-8.

The standings:

ARMOUR ROAD

On almost an acre of beautifully landscaped land in one of Princeton's finest locations, this brick and frame residence offers an unusual opportunity to move into one of our most coveted sections. Designed by a modern architect, the house has foyer, paneled living room with fireplace and French doors leading to a lovely terrace, dining room, kitchen, powder room, den . . . and, for you interested in a retirement home, 2 bedrooms and bath on first floor. Upstairs: 2 more bedrooms and bath. Recreation room downstairs. 2-car attached garage. (Sole Agent) $69,500

COUNTRY HOME . . . only twelve miles from Princeton on a quiet lane winding through farms and estates, here is a custom-built home with a large paneled living room featuring a stone fireplace and walls-to-wall carpeting. Modern kitchen. 2 bedrooms and tiled bath. 2-car attached garage. Located well back from the road on more than one-and-a-half acres of beautiful woods, this fine home is ideal for a young couple, as the design of the house permits easy expansion and the property is large enough to make it feasible. (Sole Agent) $36,000

MERCER ROAD . . . out where you can enjoy the view of open fields, yet still be in Princeton, here is one of the most charming homes available at this time. On more than an acre, and well back from the road, the house has foyer, large (16 x 30) living room with lofty beamed ceiling and a stone fireplace, dining space, a marvelously compact modern kitchen, study, 4 bedrooms and 2 baths. An added feature of this lovely home is central air-conditioning. There is a big terrace for entertaining in the summertime. Designed and decorated for modern living, this is one property you should see before you decide. (Sole Agent) $45,000

HOUSE WITH A VIEW . . . in a fine new neighborhood only 8 minutes from the Shopping Center, you can sit on the balcony outside the living room and enjoy the breeze that belongs only to a hilltop home. An acre of land goes with the house, too . . . Indoors, there is a spacious living-dining area, large, modern kitchen, 3 bedrooms, 2 baths, study (or 4th bedroom) and powder room, and a big recreation room. On a quiet circle in rolling country with woods in the background. (Sole Agent) $29,750

BATTLE ROAD . . . This is one of Princeton's loveliest streets, and shaded by two huge sycamores, the serene, old, white clapboard Colonial will appeal to you who have long wanted to live in a place like this. Entry hall, living room with fireplace, dining room, screened porch, butler's pantry and kitchen on first floor. Second floor: 5 bedrooms, 2 with fireplaces, and 2 baths. Third floor: 2 bedrooms and bath . . . A large old house, and a gracious one which has served the present owners well for many years. (Sole Agent) $79,500
